About us	74
Items list	76

With our philosophy in mind we have created a unique way of developing our products. At the core of the process is the GLOBE·LearningCircle™, which keeps the child's progress, curiosity, and complete learning needs in mind. It consists of eight different skills, that all facilitate optimal learning for the child. Below you can learn more about each skill in the GLOBE·LearningCircle™.

GLOBE·LearningCircle™

At Globe Publishing it is our philosophy that “playing is learning” which means that children never “just” play. By interacting with others and by playing alone, children expand their understanding of themselves and the world around them. And no matter if they are doing a puzzle, building a tower of blocks, playing a board game, reading a book or drawing a picture they are constantly evolving important skills, such as fine motor skills, social skills, artistic skills, language skills and maths skills.

PERSONAL SKILLS

The ability to understand oneself, one's own world and limits: Who am I and how does my body work? Includes feelings, capabilities, ideas and actions.

SOCIAL SKILLS

The ability to understand others, read their mood, feelings and body language and learn to be part of social groups.

MUSIC SKILLS

The ability to distinguish between rhythm, notes and tunes and express them.

LANGUAGE SKILLS

The ability to think while speaking, use (new) words and develop one's linguistic capacity through rhymes and small stories and through communication with one's immediate surroundings.

PHYSICAL SKILLS

The ability to use one's body for all types of activities, to express one's ideas and feelings and acquire body awareness.

ARTISTIC SKILLS

The ability to understand and play with colors and shapes. The child's inherent creativity is in focus here.

MATHS SKILLS

The ability to understand the concept of numbers, geometry and the language of mathematics.

SCIENCE SKILLS

The ability to wonder at nature, have a realistic perception of it, know where things come from and how people form part of nature's cycle and their impact on it.

GLOBE·CoreLine

To make sure we have books that cover all skills for all ages between 0-6 years we have developed the GLOBE·CoreLine.

Our best-selling series, My Little Village, is sold in over 1,5 million copies in more than 40 countries. All the different kits fit together to enhance the learning experience and let the child experiment and tell their own stories.

We have now created a new series: My Little Village - Junior. The concept is the same but the graphic style has changed to a younger and more fresh style. We have also changed the content of the book to be fully illustrated. The box has a cute handle added so the child can carry around the box.

As always, we try to use as much as possible of the packaging. Therefore the box set now has two houses and is created without the use of plastic.

Every kit in the My Little Village Junior-series actively supports and stimulates the child's imagination and learning development as per the GLOBE·Learning Circle™-concept. The themes in the series are familiar to little learners and there is truly something new to explore and discover for young minds in all the kits.

In every book, we briefly travel back in time to see how things used to be and experience how far we've come.

The back of the puzzle can be used as a matching game and provides an easy way of differentiating the various titles for easy cleanup.

A mix of cute illustrations and bright pictures lets the child build connections between fantasy and real life.

Each 16-page board book touches upon all of the 8 skills in the GLOBE·LearningCircle™ in different ways. In general, reading with an adult will enhance the child's language skills and social skills but in these books, the child can also be asked to draw something which will strengthen their artistic skills, or to make specific sounds which are good for music skills and so on until the circle is complete.

Sidsel Brix

Sidsel Brix is a Danish illustrator, educated at the design school in Kolding in 2005. "When I became an illustrator, it was with the wish of drawing for children and with children. I love moving in the universe of the child, where everything is so straightforward and yet so complex.

It is with my greatest pleasure that I have been allowed to express my inner images and thoughts about the fairy tales that I love so dearly. I hope you will enjoy moving in this universe as much I have done."

Making kids happy in more than 40 countries in the world.

What first began in the 1980's as a publishing house whose main focus was travel books, Globe Publishing has now grown to be an international publishing house that takes pride in developing interactive and educational non-fiction books for children aged 0-7.

Over the last two decades, we have seen major changes in the publishing world. And with these changes we have developed, and we have impacted the publishing landscape. Each year we are introducing new products to our portfolio, expanding our innovative packaging, trying different business models, all while promoting disruptive ideas.

Our values

We want our products to have the highest possible educational value. We invest in our products by making them exciting, stimulating and most of all fun for children.

Through rigorous testing, we make sure that our products can be held to the highest possible standards of safety and quality.

We want our products to inspire a strong dialogue between the child and the adult. It is important to us that the child, after engaging with one of our products, learns something new, and that the adult can rest assured that their child grows and develops.

Our commitment

Throughout our work, we have been constantly devoted to reducing our ecological footprint by investing in sustainable and renewable materials. In a similar vein, we take extra measures to make sure that the concepts and products we develop are certified by international certification agencies, and that they are sustainable and safe.

Our Mission

While always striving to be innovative and providing new and unique experiences, we, at Globe Publishing, have remained devoted to our mission to encourage meaningful play by creating dynamic learning experiences for children and their parents.

Our Heritage

With roots in the Scandinavian values for play and learning, Globe Publishing creates concepts and products that are at the center of the good childhood ideal, where the main beliefs are: autonomy to play, freedom of the individual, and the development of healthy, warm and loving relationships with peers and adults while growing self-awareness.
