LITTLE TIGER

2023

Catalogue

Welcome to the Little Tiger catalogue 2023

We are thrilled to present a fresh collection of stunning books for 2023.

Our cover image for this year celebrates the magic of reading. It is from Laura Baker and Sandra de la Prada's All the Wonderful Ways to Read (p.10), a beautiful rhyming picture book that encourages you to read whatever, however and wherever YOU choose. The message that runs through All the Wonderful Ways to Read is one that clearly demonstrates Little Tiger's publishing aims: to encourage, inspire and delight children with all kinds of books, and help parents, teachers and booksellers discover the perfect book to captivate every young reader.

In our picture book list, we are delighted to say that Bush Baby is BACK in I Really, Really Love You So (p.6), a hilarious and heartwarming picture book by author Karl Newson and illustrator Duncan Beedie. This August, the award-winning author/illustrator Nicola Kent joins our list with her first Little Tiger book, Measuring Me (p.21), a non-fiction picture book, which is an accessible and exciting introduction to the human body and concepts of measuring – including a pull-out height chart!

Gina Kaminski Saves the Wolf (p.23), by Craig Barr-Green and Francis Martin, features Gina, an autistic hero, who decides to rewrite the Red Riding Hood fairy tale in her own brilliantly bold way. Plus, new titles from much loved Little Tiger favourites Steve Smallman, Britta Teckentrup and Suzy Senior hit the shelves this year.

Our board book selection contains a huge variety of intriguing new formats as we continue to find exciting innovations in materials and treatments to help delight and encourage our youngest readers. Our brand new Don't Mix Up My...(p.39) series is so much fun. Mix and match new animal friends by spinning the touch-and-feel wheels! In Nibbles Shapes (p.37), everyone's favourite book monster is munching his way through different shapes, with lift-the-flap fun and peek-through holes.

The bestselling novelty board book series My First Touch and Feel Sound Book expands with the new book Noisy Babies (p.42), which features appealing photographs, tactile textures and the recognisable sounds in a baby's day.

Our fiction list has something for everyone. For readers who are reaching for their first chapter books, the new series Huxley and Flapjack (p.78) from author Alan MacDonald and illustrator Francesca Gambatesa is the perfect fit. Meet Huxley, a small koala with BIG ideas, and Flapjack, the jumpy penguin. Total opposites, but both ready to have the best adventures!

Yomi and the Fury of Ninki Nanka (p.91) is set to take young readers by storm! This is the first in a new series by debut author Davina Tijani and illustrated by Adam Douglas-Bagley, which features incredible world-building, creatures from African mythology and a quest across the African continent! While for older readers, we are thrilled to announce a new adventure series by Ruth Lauren, Tourmaline and the Island of Elsewhere (p.93). A rip-roaring feminist fantasy which follows Tourmaline and her friends through a series of challenges as they set off to find her missing artefact-hunter mother.

For teens and young adults, we have the beautiful new book by Sophie Cameron, Away with Words (p.101), a poignant coming-of-age story about how we communicate with each other, plus the translation of Danish bestseller In Your Orbit (p.101) by Lise Villadsen, a life-affirming YA novel about finding your own path without losing loved ones along the way.

Dive in – there's something here for everyone!

Who Owns the Woods?

Emily Hibbs & Jess Mason

When a boy and his grandma go to the woods, the boy is curious about whom the place belongs to. Is it one of the creatures he encounters or – perhaps – does HE have a claim? As day slips into dusk, his journey takes a turn for the strange – the trees themselves have something to say.

A timely story about our relationship with nature and the importance of respecting the world we live in.

The Tree Next Door

Charlie Moyler & Martin Stanev

When a little girl moves in next door to a magnificent tree, she learns, through the seasons, what an important place the tree, and the lady that tends it, hold in the hearts of the community which surrounds them.

Santarella

Suzy Senior & Lucy Semple

NEW

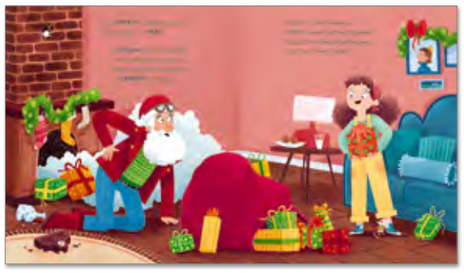

It's a chilly, frosty Christmas Eve and Santa's hurt his back.
He cannot fly the reindeer – or even lift his sack!
But who's the hero in his sleigh? My stars! It's Cinderella!
Bringing gifts and Christmas cheer! HOORAY FOR . . . SANTARELLA!

A funny, fractured fairy tale about choosing your own happy-ever-after.

Eight Nights, Eight Lights

Natalie Barnes & Andrea Stegmaier

Chanukah, The Festival of Lights, is drawing near.
It's a time for songs and prayer . . .
delicious food and friendship . . .
fun and family.

It's a time to be together and to bring light to the darkness.
A story celebrating Chanukah, told across eight nights . . .

would make things even better though?"
"Getting to finally eat our midnight feast tonight!" Lottie said.
"Well, yes, that, of course," said Maia, her eyes sparkling. "But I think it would be better right now if we were somewhere no one could see us." She glanced pointedly at the trees behind them and saw understanding dawning on the others' faces.
Getting up, they all slipped away from the campfire. A few minutes later, they were sitting in their own circle with their animals cuddled beside them.
Gazing at the stars twinkling above them and listening to the music and chatter coming from the campfire, Maia felt a warm rush of happiness. She might not have solved the mystery of the raccoon, but they'd saved the camp and had an amazing time. A magical time, she thought, bending down to kiss Bracken's fluffy head. He gave a contented sigh and snuggled even closer into her arms.

She pulled on her dressing gown and hurried to the kitchen. As soon as she opened the door, Pepper raced outside. Mum was getting breakfast ready, her hair pulled back in a scrunchy. "How did you all sleep?" she asked.
"Fine," said Ava. She looked out of the window. Pepper was running across the grass, her nose to the ground as if she was following a scent. "What's she doing?" she said.
Ava's mum watched Pepper for a moment. "Maybe there was a fox in the garden last night." She shook her head. "We'd better do some gardening this afternoon. I can't believe it's growing so fast. Will you give me a hand?"
"Sure," said Ava. She quite liked gardening. "Can we still go into town this morning though?"
Her mum nodded. "What do you want to do?"
"Just have a look round," said Ava. They'd been so busy since they moved in that she'd without magic, and he found the perfect high-up spot. We're building the walls and roof out of tangly, dried old branches that Fabi is speed-knitting together so tightly that not even an earwig will be able to get in, unless it's invited.

Winnie is going to charm the clubhouse so it changes colour to match the living tree exactly. NOBODY, not even other witches, will be able to find it unless they know it's there.
"So what's going to happen in this Finkelspork Club?" asks Ash, dragging over some sticks.
"We're going to hang out and have fun!" Puck calls down from his treetop perch.
"First we have to finish it." Fabi flicks his wand and levitates a really big branch into place.
Time to stop scribbling and get back to work.

It's getting dark already and we're finishing off the roof by the light of the fire. It looks brilliant!
And I think the bats circling overhead agree too because I'm sure they're clapping their wings.

"I call to order the first meeting of the Finkelspork Club," Winnie announces, pulling a clipboard and a fluffy quill out of her backpack. "It will have to be a quick one or my mum will kill me for getting home late, but we need to agree the rules and decide on a password."
"Do you think we should have a special handshake too?" asks Amara.
Definitely.

SCRAP

Guy Bass

When the robots sent to prepare planet Somewhere 513 for humanity's arrival stage a mutiny, the robots win and humans are outlawed. Twenty years on the only humans remaining, Gnat and her sister Paige, are forced out of hiding to search for the one robot that might help them – K1-NG. But what they find is a bad-tempered junk case that Gnat names Scrap . . .

Join an adventure which is out of this world . . .

This isn't my story, but I'm the only human left to tell it.
I wasn't there for the first part, mainly 'cause
I hadn't been born yet.

The year was Something Something. Humans had spread like peanut butter across the galaxy, looking for new planets to call Somewhere.

One of those planets was Somewhere Five One Three.

That one, the little one.

I know, it doesn't look like much.

Sometimes, big stories come in small packages.

Yomi and the Fury of Ninki Nanka

Davina Tijani & Adam Douglas-Bagley

Yomi and her younger brother Kayode are supposed to be on the trip of a lifetime visiting the Gambia with their Uncle Olu. Instead, their uncle's work has made this the most boring holiday ever! But when Yomi witnesses the Dragon King, Ninki Nanka, being kidnapped from the sky, things get a lot more exciting.

Explore more of Yomi's world here . . .

"Everything went still.

Suddenly, there was a violent swirl of water. The reptiles were dragged down, each crocodile whipping round uncontrollably as they tried to thrash free of whatever was sucking them beneath.

"Oh-my-gosh-oh-my-gosh-oh-my-gosh, Yomi, what is going on?" Kayode screamed.

"I don't know!" And at that point she felt something large bump underneath the boat.

She and Kayode held their breath. The crocodiles had gone but now several long pincer-like arms were reaching out of the water, wrapping themselves around the craft with a vice-like grip!

As Yomi and Kayode clung to each other, the oversized, bodyless claws twisted and shook the small vessel violently, throwing them about until Yomi, with nothing to hold on to, was tossed straight into the water."

TEEN AND YOUNG ADULT

Away With Words
Sophie Cameron

When Gala moves to Scotland from Spain, she feels lost and lonely as she does not speak English very well. Just as she's making friends and settling into her new life, the actions of an anonymous classmate threaten to take it all away. Will she be able to find out who's behind it and show everyone who she really is?
