FOR THE LOVE OF LETTUCE

3-6 YEARS

32 PAGES

250 x 250 MM

BY COURTNEY DICMAS

Change isn't easy. Especially for Zip - who has to do all the planning while Zip's friend, Parsley, gets to do all the eating! Will these two caterpillars learn how to adapt and overcome their differences (and escape from hungry chickens)?

WHY WE THINK YOU'LL LIKE THIS BOOK

- Social skills and citizenship: This picture book can be used to encourage children to appreciate the differences between them and their friends.
- Growth: readers can talk about the theme of change - what changes about the caterpillars' relationship? In what ways do the characters change and how do they stay the same?
- Empathy and creativity: 'For the Love of Lettuce' can be used to show children how to see things from another perspective in many ways; Zip learns to see Parsley's relaxed attitude in a positive light, and young readers can be inspired to write from another point of view. We may see chickens as harmless, but to small caterpillars, they're monsters!

Zip liked to plan,

while Parsley just dived right in.

"HANG ON, Parsley!"
cried Zip.

"If we don't plan our food,
we could run out of..."

CAT'S SEASONS

3-6 YEARS

32 PAGES

220 x 285 MM

BY AIRLIE ANDERSON

In this sequel to the beloved 'Cat's Colours', Cat and her family take in the seasons (and borrow some of their rich colours, too!) A charming introduction to the beauty of natural cycles.

WHY WE THINK YOU'LL LIKE THIS BOOK

- This time the focus is on what changes each season brings. Point out the differences in the weather on each page, and link it to the child's own experiences – have they played in the snow or felt an Autumnal breeze?
