Auzou Picture Books – Hotel Didadoum

Hardback • 225 x 350mm • 40 pages

£12.99

ABOUT THE BOOK

“Hotel Didadoum is a very old hotel – built in the 30s, I would say. But anyway, our story takes place in the present day...”

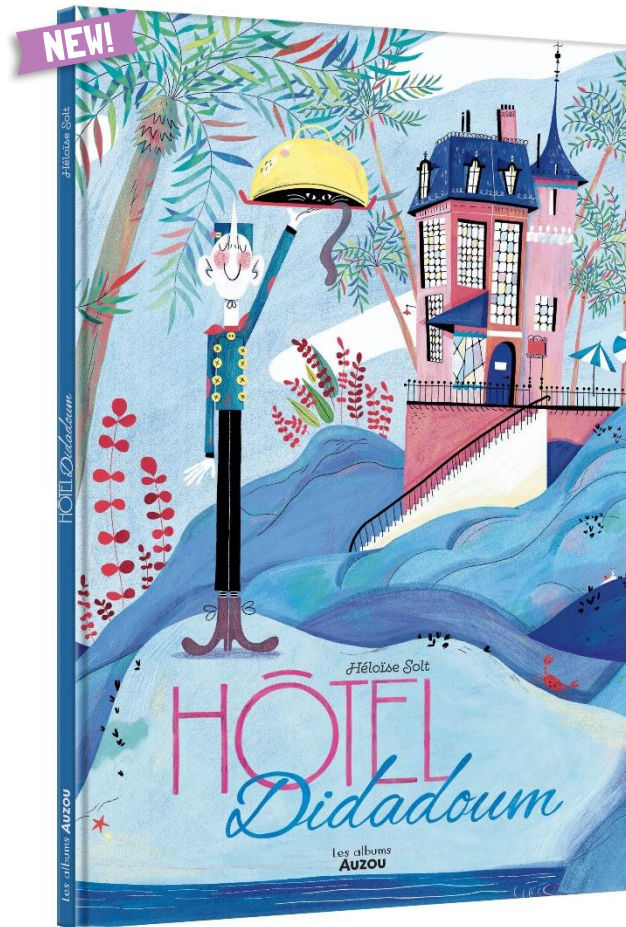

Arthus is an exemplary bellboy. He is pleasant, attentive and professional. Nothing could phase Arthus.

Or could it?

When his Aunt Clothilde leaves her beloved cat Mika in his care, things at Hotel Didadoum become a lot more complicated.

How can Arthus restore peace at the hotel?

Will he find a way to love the incorrigible Mika?

ILLUSTRATOR
Héloïse Solt

Héloïse Solt studied animation and illustration at the Emile Cohl school in Lyon before moving to Paris to pursue a career as a children's book illustrator.

Everyone loves Arthur.
Take Mrs Taylor,
the hotel's oldest guest.
"He's incredibly amiable,
and I've known him since he was that high."

The hotel manager, Mr Pile, loves him too.
"Yes, yes, he's a good employee, always ready to help guests."

"He's as smooth as silk," says Mrs Williams.

"He's one in a million, this little guy,"
says the chef.

You could even ask Miranda
(the hotel's resident plant since 1937)...

She will tell you:
"Ah, I've seen quite a few porters, but you won't find one like Arthur
in a hurry!"

Discover the joy of learning

WHO'S BEHIND THE BOOK?

Author/Illustrator: Kim Hankinson is a Sussex-based designer/illustrator who's been creating children's books for the past 7 years. After art directing the developing Ivy Kids imprint including the bestselling This is Not a Maths Book, Kim now works as a freelancer illustrating, creating, designing and authoring non-fiction titles. Her brightly coloured digital illustrations are both whimsical and practical, communicating clear information with humour, fun and play.

b small publishing:

We believe that children are natural learners. That's why, for over 30 years, we've been making books that celebrate their enthusiasm for discovering new things. From science to foreign languages, our award-winning non-fiction and activity books help all children discover the joy of learning.

#LifeHacks for Happiness

Make a stand!

Practise these confidence exercises so that you are ready for action!

All standing poses start with 'posture power'.

POSTURE POWER

Standing tall is a great way to feel big! Lift the top of the head as if it's pulled by an invisible string. Let the shoulders fall down and back.

Pull your tummy muscles in towards your back without arching over... and breathe!

POWER SQUATS

Plant your feet. Squat your bottom down and up as if trying to sit on an invisible chair. Keep your back straight. Don't lean the knees over the toes or lift your heels from the floor.

SPRING-INTO-ACTION JUMPS

Get those energy levels up. If you're feeling a little shy or nervous, jump up and down 20 times, keeping your body nice and loose!

BE A WARRIOR!

From power posture, turn one foot all the way to the side. Turn the other diagonally to point nearly in the same direction. Next, reach your arms out. Turn to face the foot pointing to the side and then take a big step into a lunge! Your knee should not lean over your ankle. After counting to 20, repeat on the other side.

Breathe and stay comfortable. It should feel good, not a strain.

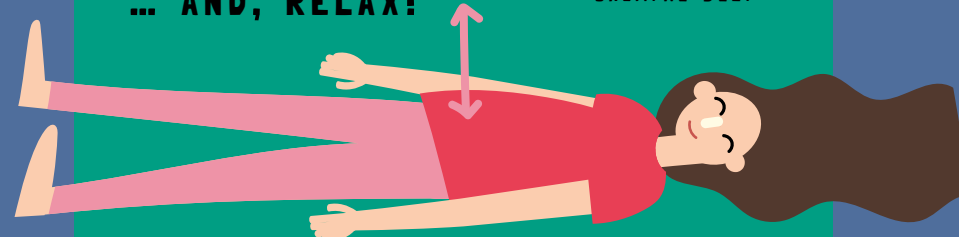

ARM-STRENGTHENING AIR PUNCH

Get your arm ready for getting noticed and cheering along! Stretch one arm out and punch the air above your head ten times. Repeat with the other arm. Don't go too fast.

... AND, RELAX!

BREATHE DEEP

Lay on the floor and slow your breathing. When you breathe in your belly should rise, and when breathing out it should fall.

Animal FACTopia!

Follow the Trail of 400 Beastly Facts [Britannica]

Julie Beer, Andy Smith

This book will make you ROAR with laughter! Discover facts about escaping penguins, farting zebras, leaping dolphins, snorting elephants, dancing bears and more – all connected in weird and wonderful ways.

Did you know that beavers have orange teeth? Or that some monkeys floss their teeth using bird feathers? Or that one species of bird can walk underwater? Or that alligators stay underwater for longer by swallowing rocks? Or that sea otters use rocks to crack open prey? Welcome to Animal FACTopia, a purrfectly amazing world of facts, all of which are verified by Encyclopaedia Britannica. Every fact in this book is connected to the next in a fascinating web of information, where you will leapfrog from topic to topic in surprising and hilarious ways. Sometimes your path branches and you can slide down a rabbit hole to a totally different, but still connected, part of the book. Discover where your curiosity will take you!

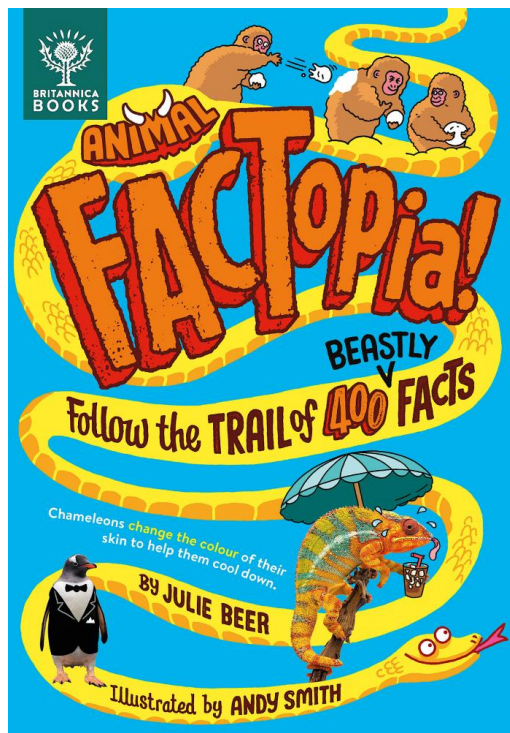

- The fourth book in the bestselling FACTopia series, which has sold over 60,000 copies to date.
- Every one of the 400 facts in this book is linked, and you can choose your own path through this wild web of information.
- Makes connections between an incredible range of animals, from deep-sea creatures to mountain-dwelling species, as well as animal habitats, record-breakers, prehistoric beasts, and even animal escape artists!
- Features more than 300 fabulously witty colour illustrations and photographs.

Author Information:

Julie Beer is an author and editor, who has written numerous children's books on everything from national parks to space to her favourite subject of all – animals! Julie is based in California, USA.

Andy Smith is an award-winning illustrator, and studied illustration at the University of Brighton and the Royal College of Art, London. His work combines illustration and typography to create images that have humour, energy and optimism executed with a handmade, hand-printed, tactile feel. He lives by the sea in Hastings, East Sussex, UK.

Bigfoot Island

Roderick O'Grady

Selling points:

- Stunning sequel to Bigfoot Mountain, which was picked as The Week Junior's Book of the Week - 'This [book] will sweep you away to the mountains for a wild adventure.'
- Jacketed with another beautiful cover from Jess Mason
- Free teaching resources for Bigfoot Mountain available at fireflypress.co.uk

Summary:

When Minnie spots a white boat bringing strangers to the cove below her cabin, she fears the hard-won peace of her tiny community at the foot of Bigfoot Mountain will be shattered. Kaayii too has to deal with an intruder on the mountain and, injured, needs to reach his family across the water.

The two inhabit separate worlds but must find a way to work together to avoid disaster and protect the people and places they hold dear.

Why we love it:

'Bigfoot Mountain is a sensitive and evocative story of grief and healing in a beautifully realised natural world, and Bigfoot Island broadens and deepens this story. We are delighted with this compelling sequel!' Penny Thomas, editor

The Dark and Dangerous Gifts of Delores Mackenzie

Yvonne Banham

- Absorbing gothic spookiness for readers aged 11+
- A shapeshifting, ghost-filled, paranormal whodunnit – Beetlejuice meets Lockwood & Co with added Tartan Noir
- Comprehensive marketing campaign planned for the author with strong social media presence

Summary:

When Delores Mackenzie is chased home by a restless spirit, she is sent to the mysterious Uncles in Edinburgh Old Town to learn how to control her unusual 'gifts'.

Scared and alone, she finds her new home at the Tolbooth Book Store is full of curious surprises: some welcome, others less so. But when a sinister apparition threatens the lives of her strange new housemates, Delores must gather all her strength to save them.

Why we love it:

'Yvonne has created an enthralling middle-grade adventure set in a vivid and very spooky world. We're sure readers will love The Dark and Dangerous Gifts of Delores Mackenzie as much as we do, and we are so delighted to be publishing it!' Penny Thomas, Publisher

- Yvonne Banham has completed two years of study with the Golden Egg Academy and is one of the network organisers for SCBWI Scotland. She grew up on a small island off the Cumbrian coast and spent lots of time huddled on blustery beaches with a book or three. She speaks Dutch (badly) after living in The Netherlands for ten years but is now based in the almost-wilds of Stirlingshire. When she's not writing or reading spooky books, she'll most likely be hiking or trail running in the nearby hills. Her writing influences include Frances Hardinge, Shirley Jackson, Kiran Millwood Hargrave, Kat Ellis and Deirdre Sullivan.

- 'A distinctive voice ... Govett's humorous and unflinching handling of plot and character make this feel vivid and fresh.' Imogen Russell Williams, the Guardian
- Combined sales of more than 15,000 since publication in 2015-17
- Sarah Govett is a tireless school and shop events author, based in London, committed to selling her books.

Summary:

- Noa lives in a Britain where flooding means land is scarce. Everyone must sit an exam at 15: if you pass you can stay in the Territory, if you fail you must go to the Wetlands. Rich families can buy their children an upgrade, but 'Norms' must succeed on their own.
- The first book follows Noa as she and her friends face the exam. Who will pass and who will fail? In Escape, Noa must face the lawless Wetlands to save her friend and in Truth she must break back into the Territory, risking everything to tell people what is really going on...

Sarah Govett read law at Trinity College, Oxford. After qualifying as a solicitor, she realised she was more interested in education and the communication of ideas and set up her own tutoring agency, Govett Tutors, which specialises in helping children from all backgrounds. She has also written for children's television. She has two young children and lives in London with her TV presenter, stand-up comedian husband, Spencer Brown. THE TERRITORY trilogy were her first three published novels.

‘An uplifting and funny story about a young girl who learns to love the unexpected and hidden things in life.’

- The Bookseller Buyers Guide

An uplifting story about a young girl who learns to love the unexpected and appreciate her favourite mango tree. Farah loves mangos! She could eat them all day long and she wouldn't mind living in one either. Every summer when she visits her Grandpa they always pick the ripe fruit from his mango tree. This year, however, the tree is empty! Farah puts her mind to it and decides she will make the tree grow fruit. But perhaps Farah will learn there is more to a mango tree than just the fruit it bears?

KEY SELLING POINTS

- A humorous and energetic picture book about enjoying the beauty of nature
- Strong diverse heroine created by a talented Indian artist and writer
- Focus on inter-generational relationships and their importance

Friend

Author & illustrator: Gavin Bishop

A warm and simple board book that shares how to talk about feelings through a friendship between a child and their dog.

ABOUT THE BOOK

Through the up-close expressive faces of a child and their dog, we learn the words for a range of feelings.

This is my dog. She is silly! She's happy. Sometimes she's sad. She's my best friend.

This simple board book is a starting point to talk about how we feel. Key words describe the many emotions a dog can go through in a short time, while the expressions on the faces of the people nearby convey a whole new raft of feelings as they respond and react. And so the story becomes one of friendship and how our friends make us feel.

This new board book is a multi-layered delight joining Pops in Gavin Bishop's powerful series to share with the smallest children.

SALES POINTS

- Includes simple words for a range of feelings
- An overarching theme of friendship—and how our friends make us feel
- Multi-layered, with much more to discuss and enjoy in the illustrations
- Follows Pops in Gavin Bishop's board book series for the very young

WHY I CHOSE THIS BOOK

“What’s that, Jack?” embodies curiousness and stays fresh with repeated read-alouds. The catchphrase is very fun to use on repeat—I don’t know, George, I don’t know!”

Rachel Lawson, Publisher

What’s That, Jack?

Author: Cédric Ramadier

Illustrator: Vincent Bourgeau

Two curious animals have a remarkable adventure with a strange object that changes with the landscape then flies back into the sky—they don’t know what it was, but what a day they had!

ABOUT THE BOOK

Jack and George are resting quietly when BOOM! A huge and strange ball lands beside them. “What’s that, Jack?” “I don’t know, George. Maybe it’s a rock?” No—too soft. But it rolls. Fast! Jack, George and the ball roll right off the cliff and now it’s a parachute. But watch out, they’re going to land in the river...

Jack and George have a brilliant day full of adventure with this object that changes with the landscape. But what is it? It doesn’t matter, it was fun trying to figure it out.

This bright and funny book is a game of twists and turns, with a joyful refrain and vivid artwork to capture every toddler’s imagination.

SALES POINTS

- Two optimistic friends make the most of every opportunity in a day of imaginative play
- An energetic refrain that’s fun to read aloud and repeat as call and response
- Vivid artwork reminiscent of Chris Haughton

ABOUT THE AUTHOR & ILLUSTRATOR

Cédric Ramadier was born in 1968 in Toulouse, France. He studied at the Camberwell College of Arts in London, before moving to Paris to work as an art director, graphic designer, editor, and author. He has written a number of popular French children’s books.

Vincent Bourgeau was born in Brussels in 1967. He now lives in Marseilles, France, where he works fulltime as a children’s book illustrator.

Julia Marshall, Publisher

The Moon Is a Ball

Stories of Panda & Squirrel

Author: Ed Franck

Illustrator: Thé Tjong-Khing

Philosophical, wise, funny, true-to-child and wonderfully illustrated stories about an unbreakable friendship between a panda and a squirrel, from two world greats of children’s literature.

ABOUT THE BOOK

Panda and Squirrel have an unbreakable friendship. They can’t live without each other and do everything together: lie on the rocks to look at the moon, take walks, play games. One of their journeys lasts for only two steps, another day they discover a newly hatched duckling. Sometimes they argue but they always make up again. This a friendship for any day: roaring, quiet, grumbling, snoring...always.

This down-to-earth, warmhearted friendship story reaches straight from the soul of one six-year-old to another.

SALES POINTS

- Beautiful, standout storybook for emerging readers
- Playful and thoughtful, with deep wisdom lightly conveyed
- Skilled writing that speaks directly to children
- Illustrated with expression and beauty by one of the world’s greatest illustrators

ABOUT THE AUTHOR & ILLUSTRATOR

Ed Franck is one of Belgium’s most important and innovative children’s writers. Thé Tjong-Khing is a world-leading illustrator for children, whose many accolades include nomination for the Hans Christian Andersen Award.

Playing

What a lovely, fine day, Panda thinks. She does a little dance that makes her stomach wobble—boink-boink.

What shall I do today? she wonders. I've already had a nap. I've just eaten. Maybe I'm bored.

"Pom-pom," she mumbles. "Pom-pe-di-pom."

What now? Um... Play a game? Like hide-and-seek. With Wolf or Mountain Goat or Deer or any large animal. But she can't see any animal larger than an ant. Can you play hide-and-seek on your own? Panda wonders.

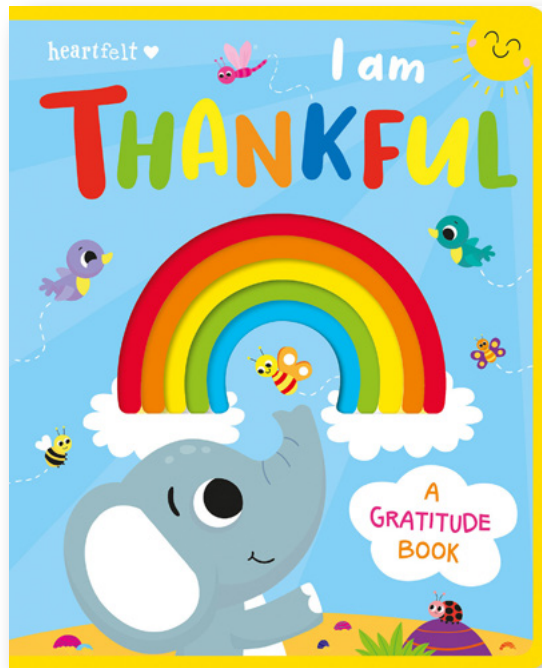

She crouches behind a bush. But nobody comes to look for her.

"Here I am," she calls. "Here!"

Not even a beetle comes looking. With a sigh, Panda crawls out from behind the bush.

About the author:

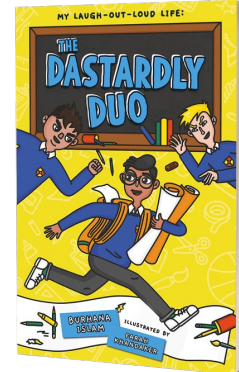

Born in Bangladesh, raised in Newcastle and currently residing in the outskirts of Manchester, Burhana Islam is a storyteller who is passionate about exploring themes of heritage, belonging, identity and faith in her work. She studied English Literature at Newcastle University before deciding to become a secondary school teacher, sharing her love for stories with a new generation of curious, young minds. MAYHEM MISSION (2021) was her debut children's fiction book, and she is also the author of AMAZING MUSLIMS WHO CHANGED THE WORLD (Puffin, 2020).

The third and final book in the side-splitting My Laugh-Out-Loud Life series.

Yusuf's older sister is coming to stay – and she's having a baby! Yusuf wants to be the ultimate uncle, but he knows he has to prepare. He ropes in his friends for a madcap scheme that is sure to backfire in more ways than one... with hilarious and unexpected results.

Sales & Marketing:

- Written with true authenticity, the series offers a warm and genuine portrayal of British Muslim childhood seen far too infrequently in children's books
- Commercial funny middle-grade fiction
- Supported by an energetic PR and Marketing campaign
- The author is a teacher, and available for online and in-person events – ideal for schools and libraries

Reader reviews for the series:

“Very funny and overflowing with action!”

“A must for all KS2 bookshelves”

We are thrilled to publish the first picture book from best-selling, award-winning illustrator Alex Ayliffe and successful screen, radio writer and author Alan Dapré.

This gorgeously quirky tale of a grumpy and grizzly little boy will capture your heart, with Alex's illustrations, which are full of energy and vitality, taking the reader on a familiar journey from tantrums to tucked up in bed.

A story with relatable themes of companionship, friendship, feelings, emotions and love.

Perfect for your grizzly little bears.

Description

Ben loves grizzly bears so much that he wants a real one for his birthday. Instead, he gets a toy cuddly bear. Making the best of the situation, Ben tries to teach Cuddly Bear how to eat honey, fish and climb a tree like a grizzly bear.

However, Cuddly Bear is soon covered in honey, soggy and stuck in a tree! Every time the toy bear cannot do something, Ben gets more and more grizzly. So completely grizzly that he grows furry ears, a shiny black nose, paws, a furry coat, claws and a round tail. Ben becomes a grizzly bear.

What will it take for Grizzly Ben to become Ben again?

About the author

Alan Dapré is the author of 60 books for children. His plays have been broadcast on BBC Radio & published for school use. A former deputy headteacher and TV scriptwriter, Alan now writes stories for young readers.

He regularly appears at book festivals, libraries and schools. Alan delivers lively, wordplay-packed, interactive events based on his books or childhood experiences in care.

Alan is also the author of the Porridge the Tartan Cat series of books published by Kelpies, an imprint of Scottish indie publisher Floris Books.

About the illustrator

Alex Ayliffe is a best-selling, award-winning writer and artist. Alex has illustrated many books for children, including the best-selling Dig Dig Digging and Boo Barney, winner of the Sainsbury's Baby Book Award.

Alex is particularly well known for her work in picture-book illustration. Her detailed cut-paper collage art, which incorporates bright, clear colours in a one-dimensional image, is inspired in part by her many travels away from her native England to locations in Europe, Africa, and Australia. Alex's original picture books include Slither, Swoop, Swing, which illustrates how snakes, bats, monkeys and other kinds of animals move, and Boo Barney, which depicts a rambunctious toddler's busy day.

Sales Points

Multi-million selling author Conn Iggulden teams up again with fantastic illustrator Lizzy Duncan on this environmental adventure.

The story of Scotty was initially produced by the Scotia Group for distribution to all delegates in attendance at the UN's COP26 climate summit in Glasgow. Conn and Lizzy are thrilled to be working with Little Door Books to expand Scotty into a series that continues to tell the story about how nobody is too small to make a difference, and no difference is too small to make when it comes to saving our planet.

Excellent for schools and families wanting to find out more about our world and how to help protect it.

Publishing on World Earth Day 2023

Description

Scotty is a little Scotty dog who was blown onto the Isle of Mull, deep in the heart of a storm. But when a fisherman gives him an old collar with ancient writing on it, Scotty is whirled off on a series of extraordinary journeys with his best friend Owl. Crotchety old Owl loves trees - his home being one - and the collar whisks them away to India to see the Banyan, to Brazil to see the last tree left standing, and to East Africa, where new seedlings are sprouting gently into fresh forests.

Climate change can sometimes be a little frightening, and Scotty's story is a tale about the small changes we can all make to protect the planet. Will Scotty and Owl get home safely from their journeys around the world? Will Owl manage not to lose all his feathers flapping after the little Scotty, with his nose for adventure? Will they both learn something extraordinary about trees, home, and how to protect it by planting just one seed? Hold tight...

About the author

Conn Iggulden has sold close to 7 million copies of his historical novels in the UK and has been translated in 27 countries, most notably with his best-selling compendium The Dangerous Book for Boys. This is Conn and Lizzy's second collaboration; they previously worked together on their Tollins: Explosive Tales for Children series.

Conn is one of the most successful authors of historical fiction writing today. He has written four previous best-selling historical series, including Wars of the Roses. Dunstan is a standalone novel set in the red-blooded world of 10th-century England, and The Falcon of Sparta is a standalone novel in which Conn returns to the Ancient World. Both instalments of Conn's Athenian series, The Gates of Athens and Protector, were instant Sunday Times best-sellers.

About the illustrator

Lizzy Duncan is an illustrator of children's books. She loves a challenge - getting Scotty to sit still while sketching him for the book is the biggest challenge she has faced so far. She has been working professionally for over 30 years for the BBC, Channel 4, Harper Collins and many others. She has extensive experience of running workshops for the corporate sector and within educational settings, teaching art from primary to further education, and designing and illustrating creative content for adverts, TV and books.

Mighty Mindsets

How mindfulness can help you with life's ups and downs
by Niamh Doyle, illustrated by Carol Betera

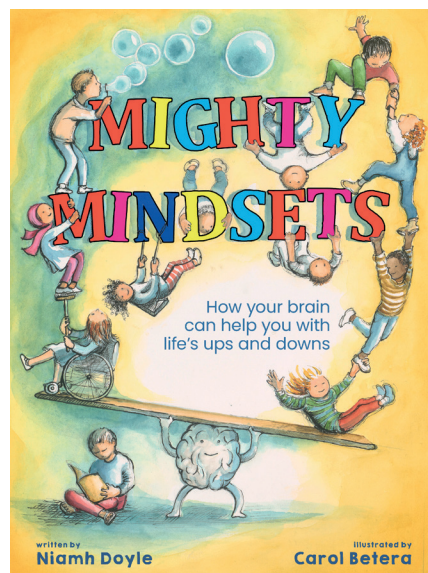

A gentle non-fiction picturebook about emotions, mindfulness, your amazing brain and how to feel calm

Summary

How does your brain work, and what does it have to do with moods? Why do you sometimes feel anxious, cross or afraid, and what can you do about it? How can breathing, looking at a snowglobe, or changing what the voice inside you says, help you feel better?

When we tell ourselves negative stories – like “I’m not good at maths” – it becomes harder to learn. But if we can change our mindset – “I’m not good at maths yet” – we help our brains to learn.

Mighty Mindsets puts together mindsets, mindfulness and neuroscience in a gentle self-care manual for young readers. With calming and playful illustrations by Carol Betera, Mighty Mindsets helps children understand their emotions and learn tips to take care of their mental health.

The Lonely Book by Meg Grehan

A warm and loving story about how a non-binary person comes to understand and accept themselves by an award-winning queer author

Summary

Every morning, when Annie's moms open up their bookshop, there's a pile of books on the counter, waiting for the right reader to come and find them.

But one day, there's a book nobody comes for. Nobody ever comes, and each day the book gets lonelier, and the bookshop becomes an unhappy place. Who can the book be for, and why don't they come?

Eventually, the book finds the reader who needs it: Annie's sister, Charlotte. Charlotte asks the family to call her Charlie now, and to use 'they/them' pronouns.

The bookshop cheers up. Customers start buying books again.

DRAFT COVER

The Lorikeet Tree, by Paul Jennings

Emily loves the bush and the native animals on her family's reforested property, particularly the beautiful rainbow lorikeets that nest in one of the tallest trees. But then her father is diagnosed with a terminal illness, and Emily's world enters a tailspin. Her twin brother, Alex, refuses to accept the truth. His coping mechanism is to build elaborate additions to his treehouse in the superstitious belief that it will avert disaster – leaving Emily to deal with harsh reality on her own. Emily's school writing project documents how the twins navigate their way through this difficult time, with help from those around.

Tightly written, compelling and thought-provoking, The Lorikeet Tree is a moving story of family, loss and love.

A full-length young teen novel from master storyteller Paul Jennings, author of Round the Twist and Unreal!, as well as the 'Different' trilogy of novellas. Set in his Australian homeland and told with his trademark humour and empathy.

Inspiring and empowering – four brave children face the challenges and opportunities of today's world

Four brave children watch, listen, search, and feel, as they experience the inequalities, dangers and injustices of life in our world.

Inspired by real-life activists and campaigners Greta Thunberg, Yusra Mardini, Marley Dias and Iqbal Masih, each of these children is filled with courage, determination and hope. They campaign to help save the planet, show that refugees can contribute and show leadership in sport in their new land, they build a library of 1000 books depicting black girls, they speak out against the outrage of child slavery.

Lyrical and powerful, this book is a passionate call to children everywhere to speak their truth and stand up for a better world.

- An inspirational picture book that encourages children to feel they can make a positive future in a troubled world
- Highlights issues of climate change, the refugee crisis, diversity and representation in the arts, forced labour and child slavery
- Author and illustrator are both prominent figures in campaigns and organisations for children's protection and rights
- Endnote on the real child heroes who inspired the book
- An empowering salute to today's children: the heroes of tomorrow

Author Information

Na'ima B Robert is the award-winning author of over 25 diverse and inclusive books for all ages, from picture books to YA fiction, that have been translated into more than 14 languages. A funny, reassuring story about how to deal with worries – perfect for sharing.

Small Stanley wants to be BRAVE and FEARLESS like the superheroes in his books, but Stanley's world seems to be stuffed with scary things like ... earwigs and DOGS and the DARK and getting lost and even Santa...

Then Grandad comes to the rescue. "Write a list," he says, and Stanley does! As Stanley's list grows bigger and bigger, find out how Grandad, a wild wind and Stanley's friends all help Small Stanley to conquer his fears.

A funny, reassuring story about how to deal with worries - perfect for sharing.

- An original and fun story about conquering fears and worries
- Addresses many common childhood fears in a gentle way
- Lovely inter-generational relationship between Stanley and Grandad
- Visually exciting, with lively integration of text and pictures

Author Information

Angie Morgan is an author-illustrator whose previous books include Enormouse (Frances Lincoln), Shouty Arthur and the Sedric stories (Egmont). Born in Bristol, she studied graphics and illustration at Goldsmiths College, London. Her stories show an acute, sympathetic understanding of how children think about things. Angie uses a wide variety of media in her illustrations: watercolours, pastels, charcoal, and scanned ephemera of all kinds. She lives in Bath.

But Stanley didn't

said Grandad
(who wrote a lot of lists).

ADVANCED INFORMATION SHEET

A spellbinding rhyming story that brings to life the precious moments between a mother and daughter, with a sprinkle of magic and a supernatural twist.

The magical moments between a mother and her daughter as some of the most treasured memories you'll make. But what if your mummy happens to be a witch?

This wonderfully witchy story is a cauldron of utterly charming ingredients told through the eyes of a little witchling

From dandelion ice-scream to pumpkin perfume and cauldron baths, and best of all a mummy who can wake up the sun and make the stars shine.

BY HELENA GARCIA
& JESS ROSE

This enchanting book about 'a day in the life' overturns our long-held conventions of villainous witches and tells a beautiful story about the love between a daughter and her mother.

Written by author and wickedly-popular Great British Bake Off star Helena has developed spooky baking books and her own design-led brand 'Witches, By Helena', which offers spooky yet glamorous lifestyle products for those who love anything witchy. This is her debut children's book, inspired by her daughter.

WENDINGTON JONES AND THE MISSING TREE

DANIEL DOCKERY

THE BOOK

Wendington Jones has her world abruptly up-ended when her adventuring mother dies in a car crash in late 1920. Left in the care of her Grandmamma and her valet Rohan, Wendington receives a parcel in the middle of the night, seemingly from her dead mother.

It's half of a manuscript from a book her mother was writing, and describes a mystery surrounding the mythical Tree of Life. When Wendington reads that the tree could have the power to bring her mother back to life, she throws herself into finding the remainder of the manuscript and solving her mother's mystery. However, her initial attempts are laced with danger. Other people also seek to find the Tree of Life and Wendington has to trick, fight and talk her way out of many perilous situations. Does Wendington have what it takes to complete her mission?

Enola Holmes meets Indiana Jones in this epic story of mystery, adventure and learning to live with grief along the way.

THE AUTHOR

Daniel Dockery has written storylines and scripts for one of the UK's most popular tv series, Hollyoaks, including award winning stories about anorexia, young LGBT relationships and criminally exploited children. As well as working on Coronation Street's award winning 50th anniversary, he's developed and storied several feature films starring Robert De Niro, Dave Bautista and Olga Kurylenko.

He has also written theatre pieces, staged in Manchester schools where he has taught drama when not writing.

AUTUMN

This is my Mommy Kel.

She likes to drink tea, listen to music from the olden days, take afternoon naps, and she loves pasta too!

She doesn't like bananas and she's scared of heights.

I like to spend time with her crafting and reading. She is always there for me when I'm sad.

The Magnificent Book of Creatures of the Abyss

Written by Josh and Bethanie Hestermann
Illustrated by Val Walerczuk

DIVE INTO THE DEEP TO MEET ITS WEIRD AND WONDERFUL RESIDENTS

Get up close to some of the extraordinary creatures that live thousands of feet beneath the ocean surface – from the barreleye fish with a transparent head to the seaworm that drops ‘bombs’ on its enemies.

Intriguing facts accompany every illustration, so you can find out why the gulper eel has an inflatable mouth, how the dumbo octopus got its name and why the vampire squid turns itself inside out.
