No Matter What . . . We All Belong

Becky Davies

Illustrated by Fernando Martín

*No matter what the music,
 no matter what our name.
 No matter what our language . . .
 our smiles are the same!*

An irresistibly squishy, shiny rainbow accompanies an uplifting rhyming text, with the unifying message that we ALL belong, no matter what.

Sales Points

- Cased board book with sparkly padded rainbow on front cover and final spread.
- With die-cuts throughout, peeking through to the colourful fabric.
- Celebrates diversity of race, ability, background, religion and culture in an age-appropriate way with a wide cast of characters.

Coming soon: No Matter What . . . You Are Loved

About the Author

Becky is a children's book editor and sometimes author from the South West of England. Her favourite things are animals, books about magic, and anything sparkly. In a parallel universe she lives in Hawaii, where she works in a dog sanctuary and surfs until the sun sets beyond the horizon.

About the Illustrator

Fernando is a freelance illustrator from Valencia, Spain. He graduated in Media and Audiovisual Communication. Drawing is what he enjoys the most; it connects him with his childhood when there were no big worries. You can see that in his cheerful illustrations. He works mainly digitally and he likes using limited but colourful palettes.

Sunny Side Up

Clare Helen Welsh

Illustrated by Ana Sanfelippo

Put on your sunny-side specs and what will you see? A glass half empty . . . or half full? Someone new . . . or a friend you haven't met yet?

Sometimes a sunny side is hard to see . . . and that's OK. Wonderful things will be there to discover whenever you are ready.

A CBT-inspired book that empowers children to choose how they see the world.

Sales Points

- The innovative novelty uses die-cuts and flaps to transform and refocus the world around the character (and the reader) when they put on their sunny-side specs.
- Allows a space for difficult emotions, too, by acknowledging that it's OK to be sad; not every situation can be changed with positive thinking.
- Ana Sanfelippo's beautiful illustrations use carefully considered colours to convey nuanced emotions.
- Just like Happy by Nicola Edwards and Katie Hickey, The Colour Monster by Anna Llenas and The Worrrysaurus by Rachel Bright and Chris Chatterton, Sunny Side Up is the ideal book for exploring difficult emotions.

About the Author

Clare does her best writing by the sea, which is lucky because she lives with her family in South West England, a stone's throw away from crashing waves and salty sea air. When Clare isn't writing stories for children, she is inspiring children to write their own.

About the Illustrator

Ana Sanfelippo was born in Buenos Aires, Argentina. She is an illustrator, graphic and pattern designer, letter artist, and cats' friend. She has published books internationally. Ana now lives in Valencia, Spain. But no matter where she is, illustration is her passion.

This Girl Can Be a Bit Shy

Stephanie Stansbie

Illustrated by Hazel Quintanilla

Meet Ruby. Some days she is brave, bouncy and chat-chat-chatty. Other days, she is not- and that's OK!

She knows what she wants, and she does things her own way.

This funny, heartwarming book celebrates the power of listening to your emotions and speaking up.

Sales Points

- The bold and brilliant Ruby is a fantastic role model for young girls, introducing the concept of setting boundaries and consent.
- An empowering book that encourages readers to embrace their feelings.

Sequel to This Girl Can Do Anything, with cool, retro illustrations from exciting talent, Hazel Quintanilla.

About the Author

Stephanie Stansbie has been a children's books editor since the 90s and an author since the noughties. She adores editing and writing in equal measure and has always worked on illustrated books, where the art is as important as the word. The books she has written have been translated into over 15 different languages.

About the Illustrator

Hazel Quintanilla has been drawing since she was a little girl, when she used to carry a pencil and a small notebook around in a cute furry bear face bag bought for her by her mum. She also carried cheese strings in it!

Holey Moley

Bethan Clarke

Illustrated by Anders Frang

Can Goat guess where Mole lives?

Here's a clue: it's absolutely, very definitely, really clearly ISN'T in a hole. A super-silly, anarchic and totally HOLE-ARIOUS guessing game of a story!

Sales Points

- An anarchic, hilarious story that will have children laughing along, and joining in, with Gus Goat's outlandish guessing game.
- Illustrated with a restrained, deadpan humour and presented in a super-stylish design package.
- Author Bethan Clarke is an exciting debut picture book voice, paired with the striking illustrations of rising star Anders Frang.
- Fans of The Day The Crayons Quit by Drew Daywalt and Oliver Jeffers, the Supertato series by Paul Linnet and Sue Hendra, and anything Dr Seuss, will adore Holey Moley!

About the Author

Bethan Clarke has been a story maker-upper ever since she could write them back to front. This has proven to be a vital outlet for her love of silliness and fondness for puns. Bethan lives near Manchester with her partner, two children, two dogs and a headful of nonsense.

About the Illustrator

Anders Frang is a Danish illustrator with a passion for illustrating picture books. He seeks inspiration in many forms of art, but also in playing music, dog sitting and cycling trips. He is currently based in Copenhagen after spending several years in Edinburgh, and holds an MA from the Royal Danish Academy of Fine Arts.

Away With Words

Sophie Cameron

Gala and her dad, Jordi, have just moved from home in Cataluña to a town in Scotland, to live with Jordi's boyfriend Ryan. Gala doesn't speak much English, and feels lost, lonely and unable to be her usual funny self. Until she befriends Natalie, a girl with selective mutism.

The two girls find their own ways to communicate, which includes collecting other people's discarded words. They use the words to write anonymous supportive poems for their classmates, but then someone begins leaving nasty messages using the same method – and the girls are blamed. Gala has finally started adapting to her new life in Scotland and is determined to find the culprit. Can she and Natalie show the school who they really are?

Sales Points

- An intriguing, thoughtful and poignant exploration of how we express ourselves and communicate, as well as celebrating difference.
- A coming-of-age story with an incidental LGBTQ relationship and a magical twist. Exploring communication, change and identity, there are lots of discussion points for readers.
- Perfect for fans of Katya Balen, A POCKETFUL OF STARS and Lisa Thompson, as well as lovers of magical realism.
- Sophie Cameron is an established and well-respected YA and MG author, with connections in the book community. Her novels OUT OF THE BLUE, LAST BUS TO EVERLAND and OUR SISTER, AGAIN have been widely praised. This is her second teen novel.

About the Author

Sophie Cameron is a YA and MG author from the Scottish Highlands. She studied French and Comparative Literature at the University of Edinburgh and has a Postgraduate Certificate in Creative Writing from Newcastle University. Her debut novel OUT OF THE BLUE was nominated for the Carnegie Medal 2019. She lives in Spain with her family.
