A warm welcome to our inclusive childrens' books catalogue!

Owlet Press is a small, independent press of award-winning childrens books that nurtures and champions authors and illustrators from all walks of life. We are a family run business based in South Wales, who work tirelessly to champion authors and illustrators from varied backgrounds and communities including neurodiversity, LGBTQ+, blended families, various faiths, multi-cultural heritage and more.

We're a tiny but respected inclusive press, publishing stories that help create more positive futures for all children, celebrating characters, authors and illustrators from all backgrounds and communities. We want each and every one of the stories we publish to bring joy and strength to those children and families who need it most. This is the way we've always been, from 'incidentally inclusive' illustrations across every title, to issue books that come from the best talent in undiscovered and neglected areas of society. Every author has an important story to tell, either within or behind their books. If you'd like to support us you can buy our books, or you can also use the 'donate' button at the bottom of our website. Thank you!
