We're all someone else's monster...

A gorgeously illustrated middle grade novel / graphic novel hybrid, set in a deliciously gothic world of monsters.

- A stunningly illustrated hybrid of novel and graphic novel, the story of which is told wordlessly in stretches
- For fans of The Invention of Hugo Cabret, Miss Peregrine's Home for Peculiar Children and Shaun Tan's The Arrival
- Illustrated with a thrillingly dark, fantastical style, which will delight fans of Tim Burton and Hayao Miyazaki

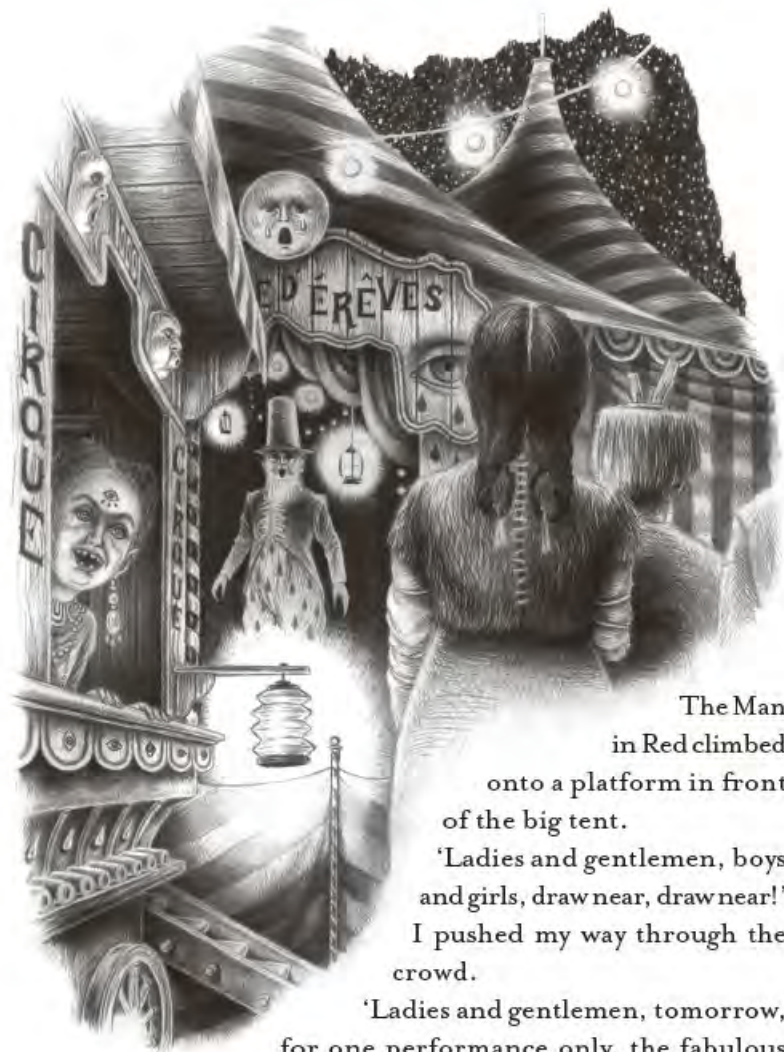

Author Biography

Stéphane Servant is a prizewinning author of novels and graphic novels for children. He lives near Carcassonne, in the south of France. Monsters won France's foremost children's literature award, the Prix Sorcières.

Nicolas Zouliamis is an award-winning Belgian illustrator of children's books, whose fantastical style recalls the worlds of Lewis Carroll and Tim Burton.

The wagons formed a circle, in the middle of which was raised a giant black and red tent. Garlands of lights were strung up all around. It was as if the stars had gathered for the evening above our village.

The Man in Red climbed onto a platform in front of the big tent.

'Ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, draw near, draw near!' I pushed my way through the crowd.

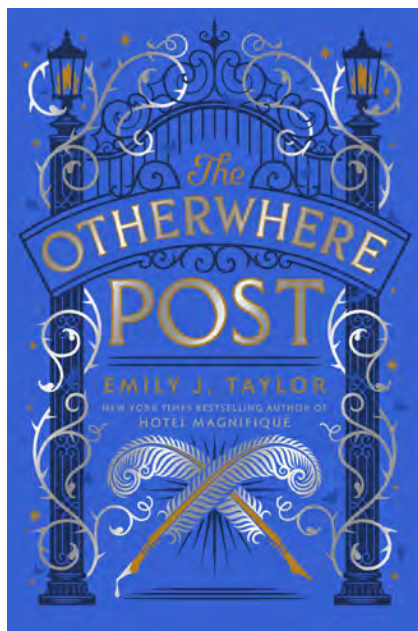

'Ladies and gentlemen, tomorrow, for one performance only, the fabulous artists from the Circus of Dreams will be yours to admire! As a taste of what's to come, allow me to present our troupe.'

SPOOKY • SWEET • MYSTERY

Coco's parents have invested everything in a struggling French hotel. But the hotel is haunted by a bitter old ghost, Monsieur Framboise, a chocolatier who met a sticky end. He agrees to share his legendary skills with Coco and her new friend Louis if they can bring his murderer to justice. Soon, the chocolates crafted by the children draw visitors far and wide, including a sinister Englishman . . . Can Coco and Louis save the family hotel and solve the mystery by Easter?

- Packed full of humour, mystery and chocolate – publishing just in time for Easter!
- The Great Chocoplot meets Chocolat, with a dash of Murder Most Unladylike.
- An older MG debut for the hilarious author Anna Brooke.

ALL THE CURSED CREATURES

Amie Jordan

LOVE • PERIL • FANTASY

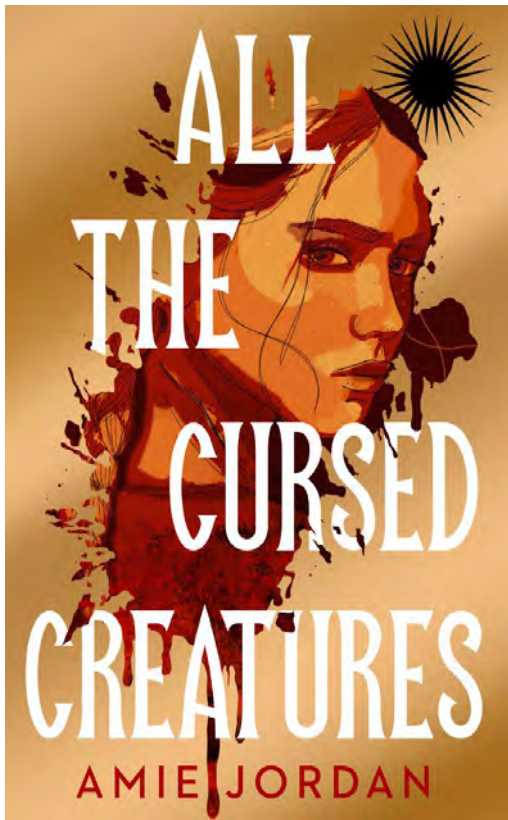

After an explosive argument with Oren, Sage finds herself alone in The Stone City. The supernatural capital, hidden behind the temples of Petra, is ancient, beautiful – and corrupt. Sage must solve a string of murdered vampires, a werewolf's natural enemy, to secure her place and keep her own deadly secret. But will Oren, P and the rest of the team get there to help before it's too late?

- Sage and Oren's slow-burn romance finally delivers the heat readers have been craving in the third installment of Amie Jordan's supernatural crime series.
- Perfect for fans of Cassandra Clare, with a touch of Rivers of London.

PRAISE FOR ALL THE HIDDEN MONSTERS: 'This is the most wonderful debut novel. Any-one who's enjoyed series like Ghosts or Being Human will absolutely love this ...'

WUTHERING HEIGHTS (REISSUE)

EMILY BRONTË

Whatever our souls are made of, his and mine are the same.

A foundling son. A forbidden love. A coveted inheritance.

Catherine Earnshaw and Heathcliff are wrong for each other in every way, yet inexplicably drawn together by a force stronger than themselves.

Key selling points

- A timeless story of obsessive love and revenge from the Scholastic Classics series, perfect for fans who want a collectable classic at an affordable price.
- This reissue has a beautiful new foil detail and is just in time for the new Emerald Fennell retelling of "Wuthering Heights" coming February 2026, starring Margot Robbie and Jacob Elordi – new appetite and viral moment for the story.

About the Author: Emily Brontë (1818-48), along with her sisters, Charlotte and Anne, was one of the most significant literary figures of the 19th century. She wrote just one strikingly innovative novel, Wuthering Heights, but was also a gifted and intense poet.

BURN THE WATER

BILLY RAY

Three hundred years ago, rising oceans drowned a vast majority of the English Isle. London is now a jungle of dead skyscrapers and submerged streets. Fighting over the scraps of a world none can remember, two Houses - the Crowns and the Rogues - have been at war for three centuries.

Rafe is the Rogue army's fiercest captain. Jule is the Crown army's deadliest soldier. They are vicious and merciless, courageous and beloved by their Houses. They are sworn enemies. And then they fall in love.

It's a death sentence. But their love is all-consuming. As Rafe and Jule try to keep each other alive in their war-torn world, they are forced to confront new, horrifying threats. When mysterious foreigners appear on their shores, the warring factions may destroy each other, unless their two most ruthless soldiers can show their people a different way and save them all.

Key selling points

- A thrilling, war-torn, enemies-to-lovers romance set in a future drowned London
- This is YA dystopian Romeo & Juliet as two rival soldiers risk everything they've ever known to fall in love
- Perfect for fans of Shatter Me and Lightlark.
