WINGS!

Many insects are able to fly, and they often have two pairs of wings. But not all insects follow this rule. The most famous flying insect - the fly! - has only one pair of wings. A beetle's outer pair of wings are hard and don't help them to fly. Instead, they protect the softer wings underneath.

Being able to fly is one of the reasons that insects survive so well in nature. They can escape danger, find food, meet other insects and look for the perfect home.

IN THE NEWS!

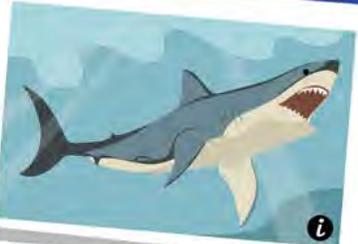

News stories are written and shared in many different ways. The same story often looks very different, depending on who has written it.

MONSTER KILLER!

Beach paradise is now a killer's playground

"No one is safe in the water," said one horrified witness after terrifying shark attack.

Shark attack responsible for surfer injury

The Paradise Beach Surfing Club have confirmed that one of their members was attacked by a large shark yesterday. He survived, but lost part of an arm as he wrestled with the beast.

DEPARTMENT OF OCEANOGRAPHY

Latest news

We can confirm that a shark was involved in yesterday's incident. Sharks rarely attack humans. It is possible that the shark mistook the surfer for a seal, its usual prey.

How do these different versions of the story make you feel?

Who writes the news?

Stories might be written by eyewitnesses or people who were actually there. Journalists investigate events and report on them. Experts may comment on what has happened. Some stories might be written using AI to gather and put information together (see page 6).

Is a news story full of

or

means the writer has carefully checked the facts of what happened. They have spoken to reliable eyewitnesses and experts on the subject.

means the writer has included their own theory or guess about what happened. It might be based on the facts, but it is the writer's opinion.

Activity

Write up a news story. You can write about an event you have witnessed yourself. Ask your friends to read it. How does it make them feel?

WORDS TO KNOW

RELIABLE describes someone you can trust or believe.

EXPERT is a person with great knowledge or skill in something.

And then there is everyone else who might want to share it!

SCIENCE IS EVERYWHERE!

Science helps us to find out about everything around us on our beautiful planet, and beyond into the Universe. It also helps us to live safe and healthy lives.

What is a black hole in space?

Where will there be another earthquake?

What lives in the deepest depths of the oceans?

Do trees talk to each other?

How many lemurs are left in the wild?

Scientists are never finished with their work. They are always finding out new things and they do this by asking lots of questions, experimenting, observing and then asking more questions.

Why and how did that happen?

When did it happen?

Will it happen again?

How can we find out more?

What is that made of?

Can we measure or test that?

We also need to ask questions to understand what scientists tell us, and to navigate this world of scientific information and evidence. If we ask the right questions we can learn more about how they do their work.

Asking questions is the best way to find out true facts. There is always more to find out so maybe you will become a scientist yourself, too!

WORDS TO KNOW

EVIDENCE is anything that helps to prove that something is, or is not, true.

AI stands for Artificial Intelligence. Computers rely on people to write programs telling them what to do. AI is when a program gives the computer ways of gathering information and the ability to create its own new programs. AI is used to analyse data and solve problems in many different scientific areas from space exploration to medical research. This means it can do lots of things that only humans used to do!

The Honeybee Highway

Shanna Upchurch

Disney
PLANET
POSSIBLE

Disney • HYPERION

WATERCRESS gets an ecological twist in this celebration of honeybees, agriculture, family, and—above all—kid power in the latest addition to Disney Planet Possible Books.

An eighteen-wheeler barrels across the country, loaded with over 400 beehives. It's bound for the almond groves of California, and seven-year-old JJ is along for the ride!

Once there, the honeybees will pollinate the almond flowers, bouncing from tree to tree to help the almonds grow. These beehives are part of the honeybee highway, an expansive network of commercial beehives that play an essential role in growing the food that feeds the people of our world—just ask Joey J. She's a honeybee expert and an essential member of her uncle's team. Uncle Mike, Jose, and Joey load up the bee crates and make the long journey across the country—stopping only at night so as not to disturb the bees. After that, there is a lot to worry about, like how to keep the bees cool, passing inspection, and wondering if native pollinators will ever be able to help grow enough food to feed the planet.

With the lyricism and family relationships of favorites like WATERCRESS, this stunning debut sheds light on a little-known piece of our world's food supply and celebrates the magnificent honeybee.

- ACTIONABLE: Back matter will explain the importance of native pollinators as well as the crucial role commercial beehives play in feeding Earth's growing population. DIY activities for kids and their caretakers will encourage growing plants that attract honeybees and nurture their population.

In the holding yard at the edge of my uncle's farm, the honeybees cluster, deep inside their hives.

I shroud them in smoke—puff, puff—to keep them calm for when we start to move them.

Uncle Mike borrows me this time every year.
Says he couldn't do it without me,
his honeybee expert.

He's right, of course.

Lilibet Makes a Friend

Kersten Hamilton

Lilibet has lots of friends—it’s just that they are all imaginary! Can she build the perfect real-life friend?

With a relatable neurodivergent main character and a message of friendship and acceptance, this funny and heartfelt picture book is perfect for 3-5 year olds.

Lilibet has tools, a lab, and a notebook. She also has lots of friends, like Calico Cate, Tom Zombie, and Dire Pup. It’s just that they’re all imaginary. So she plans a new project, REAL FRIEND 1.0, and makes a list of requirements:

- Knows the difference between a bug and an insect (extremely important!)
- Never calls her robot face
- Or computer brain
- Does not ask if she is a boy or a girl

As she sets out to build a friend, she is joined by Paul “Peanut” Shelley, who is keen to help, whether Lilibet likes it or not. It turns out, sometimes the best of friends come from unexpected places.

Celebrated author Kersten Hamilton writes from her own experience on the autism spectrum, creating a one-of-a-kind neurodivergent protagonist in a story brimming charm and humor.

NEURODIVERSITY REPRESENTATION: Celebrated author Kersten Hamilton writes her first autistic protagonist in LILIBET MAKES A FRIEND, drawing inspiration from her own childhood.

Rayana Johnson's Giant Leap

Disney · HYPERION

Jill Tew

For fans of middle grade contemporary by authors like Janae Marks, Ibi Zoboi, and Leah Johnson who are already beloved by teachers, librarians, and booksellers alike

A hilarious and heartfelt middle-grade novel about a STEM loving Black girl finding her place in the universe again after her first period knocks her out of orbit. Rayana Johnson always thought that turning thirteen would mean being old enough to stay home alone, go on her first date, and attend Galaxy Camp, a sleepaway camp that's all about her true passion—space exploration.

But instead of having a blast on flight simulators and multi-axis trainers or learning what it takes to explore the stars, Ray's mind is stuck on Earth, wondering why her parents are arguing, why her best friend isn't acting like herself, and why her totally-crushworthy counselor keeps treating her like a kid. Then, just when things couldn't get any worse, puberty throws her the ultimate curveball—she gets her first period.

In the span of just a few days, Ray's gone from having total certainty in her universe to barely being able to count on anything—not her parents' marriage, not Galaxy Camp, and not even her own body. Will she ever feel grounded again, or is the rest of her life destined to be as nebulous as the Milky Way?

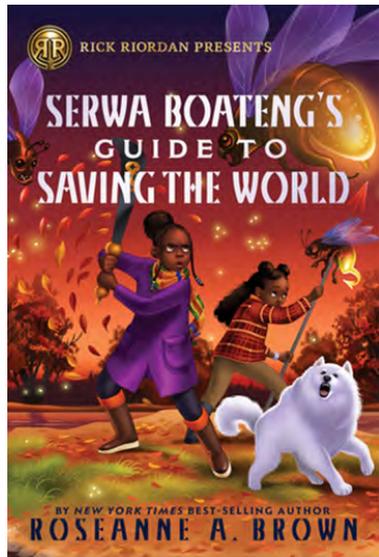

HILARIOUS AND HEARTFELT: Ellie Engle's charm and wit meets Rick Riordan Presents humor and fun in Jill Tew's middle grade novel. A fitting combination for the Freedom Fire program.

Serwa Boateng's Guide to Saving the World

Roseanne Brown

Disney • HYPERION

Best-selling author Rick Riordan presents the thrilling conclusion to Roseanne A. Brown's middle grade trilogy about a pre-teen girl who, as half-Slayer and half-vampire, is caught between two worlds.

Serwa Boateng has gone head-to-head with vampires, witches, and even a death god. But now, with the fate of the magical world at stake, she'll have to face her toughest foe yet: her own grandmother.

Finally free after decades of being trapped inside the Midnight Drum, the dreaded obayifo Nana Bekoe seeks the destruction of the Abomofuo. Even worse, she has Serwa's father under her thrall. Now, the hunters have become the hunted, as the Slayers' defenses are powerless in the face of an enemy who has access to all their secrets.

Serwa's only chance of saving her father might just lie with the Keepers, an organization whose powers exist outside the normal rules of magic. But the Keepers are even more secretive than the Abomofuo, and finding them will require Serwa to trek across the United States. At least she has her friends by her side for the journey . . . friends who currently hate her guts. The survival of everything and everyone Serwa has ever loved hinges on her completing this final hunt without losing herself in the process.

Serwa Boateng has been a Slayer. She's been a vampire. But now, it's time for her to become something else entirely: a hero.

- EPIC FINALE to an exciting trilogy
- BASED ON GHANAIAN FOLKLORE
- FAST-PACED ADVENTURE that involves gods, monsters, and political intrigue
- INCORPORATES BLACK HISTORY

Rick Riordan Presents: A Touch of Blood

Sajni Patel

Disney • HYPERION

Read the Persephone myth like never before in this companion to A Drop of Venom by Sajni Patel, where Greek mythology meets Indian lore.

Gods are made, not born.

Before Manisha, the youngest of three sisters, was sent to hide on the floating mountain, her eldest sister, Eshani, made a deal with the shades. In order to save her people in the midst of a tragic war, she exchanged her life for theirs. Now, years later, the shades claim their due, dragging Eshani into the Nightmare Realm where she must find the Gatekeeper to fulfill her end of the bargain.

Nothing is as it seems in a land filled with ravenous monsters, ghoulish residents, and a river full of the dead. But most terrifying of all is the Shadow King, who intends to use Eshani to obtain immortality. As it turns out, Eshani—nicknamed “little goddess of spring”—is the key to fulfilling the Nightmare Realm’s prophecy. There’s only one person who can help Eshani escape, and he has his own problems.

Hiran has spent most of his life hiding, but destiny beckons, and he can no longer resist the call of the realm. But how can a stowaway, long thought to be dead, save an entire world? Nothing will stop the Nightmare Realm from getting what it wants. Except maybe a king in the making and a goddess rising.

Wish Upon a K-Star

Kat Cho

Disney • HYPERION

For fans of Jenny Han, Emily Henry, and BTS who love hilarious yet heartfelt romcoms layered with the drama of K-pop and glitz and glamour of K-dramas.

A spin-off to the New York Times best-selling Once Upon a K-Prom, a K-pop idol and an up-and-coming K-drama star must fake date in this fresh and funny romcom that Korean pop culture fans will absolutely swoon over!

Moon Minseok—or Moonster as this WDB fans know him—wasn't born to lead. Even as part of the world's most popular K-Pop group, he found comfort in his role as the jokester, the sidekick, the unserious one (with the cutest smile). But now WDB is drowning in dating scandals, and it's time for Moonster to take charge of the group's image.

Shin Hyeri has been dealing with some scandals of her own. An up-and-coming K-Drama actress, she's been labeled a "nepo baby" (with a famous idol as a big brother) and now, a bully (which couldn't be further from the truth). Desperate to show the world that she's earned her spot, Hyeri is determined not to let her rising star crash and burn. When these two childhood enemies get caught up in yet another scandal while co-hosting a K-Pop festival, there's only one solution that will save both of their reputations: appear on one of Korea's most popular variety shows, Our Celebrity Marriage (where celebrities pretend to get married and compete in 'newlywed' challenges).

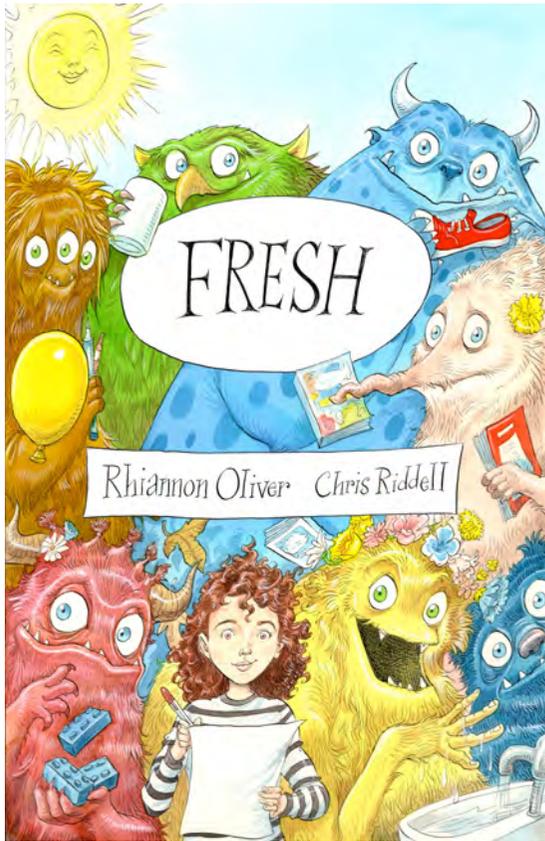

The plan is simple—pretend to get along, win back the fans, then go their separate ways. But what happens when a fake marriage leads to real feelings? Will Moonster and Hyeri bow to the pressures of their famous realities, or will they decide their love is something worth fighting for?

Why we love it: 'Rhiannon's poetry is perceptive, joyful, empathetic and deceptively simple, and will reach out to primary school audiences wherever she goes. Already published in Firefly's And I Hear Dragons anthology and other poetry publications, we are really delighted to be bringing out her first collection!' Penny Thomas, publisher

FRESH

Rhiannon Oliver
illustrated by Chris Riddell

Summary:

Taking inspiration from everything from cat fleas to cloud gazing, Fresh is a lively collection of poems written for children ages 8-12. And as well as the 'fun stuff' many of the poems touch on mental health and wellbeing, covering subjects such as shifting friendships, sadness, loss, coping with worry, and being left out. They explore starting over, the natural world, expressing your feelings, and kindness.

The collection varies in tone and style with many of the poems serving as models for young people's own creative writing.

'Leaving' excerpt:

*Love we have to leave!
Mum's voice bounces off the ceiling for the last time.*

*We have to leave.
I leave my breath in the walls
And sigh goodbye to the house
That will stay in my bones.*

Rhiannon Oliver trained as an actress at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art (RADA) and has worked at Shakespeare's Globe, National Theatre, National Theatre of Wales, Off-Broadway, and on UK, and International tours. She started writing poetry for children in 2020 and has since been widely published in magazines, websites, and anthologies. Fresh is her debut poetry collection. @rhicattjam (X) @rhiannonoliverwords (IG)

- Thrilling adventure story – with brilliantly researched and evocative locations and characters you can't help but root for
- For readers of Katherine Rundell, Sharna Jackson and Natasha Farrant
- My Name is River selected for Summer Reading Challenge and Sunday Times Book of the Week.

Summary:

When Thomas' blind sister gets kidnapped during a trip to Venice, no one believes he has discovered a clue as to her whereabouts. It's up to Thomas to race across Venice, navigating canals, carnival parades and masked balls, to try and rescue his sister from the people who snatched her.

Why we love it:

'I can't wait for readers to race over the bridges of Venice, shoot through the waterways and disappear into the lagoon along with Thomas and his friends in this intriguing adventure.' Hayley Fairhead, Editor

Emma Rea is an author, reviewer and proof reader. She is the author of MG novels Top Dog (Gomer 2014) which was shortlisted for the North Somerset Teachers' Book Award and My Name is River (Firefly Press 2020) which was selected as a Sunday Times Children's Book of the Week and a Summer Reading Challenge pick. She lives in London and regularly visits mid-Wales where she used to live.

UNTAMED DARKNESS

TAMSIN MORI

THE BOOK

Action-packed and full of mystery, this third fantasy novel in the Gargoyles trilogy is a must-read for fans of magic, mythology and the power of friendship.

Jake's early experiments with malice at the quarry Source have unleashed a chain reaction - and now darkness is spreading throughout the village.

As Sole Guardian of Gargoyle's Rest, Callen must figure out a way to stop the plague of ghosts tormenting the village, and purify a Source that's been putrefying for decades. But when he decides to release the magic from Gargoyle's Rest in the hope that it will dilute the darkened magic, it actually feeds and strengthens a lakeful of half-formed grotesques.

Can Callen and his friends overcome their distrust of Jake – and can Callen learn to ask for help – before it is too late?

Book 3 in the Gargoyles trilogy. Praise for Guardians of the Source:

'A gripping Gothic tale, bursting with wondrous creatures and mystical adventure, all lit with the warm light of friendship. Another magical hit from Tamsin Mori!' Thomas Taylor

'Thrillingly original and bursting with heart - a magic-stuffed tale of danger, courage, and friendship' Sinead O'Hart

THE AUTHOR

Tamsin lives in Bath with her husband, two children, one rabbit, several crows, and a badger, though she still flies home to Shetland whenever she can. If you go there in the summer, you'll probably spot her, striding about with the wind in her hair, chasing a wild story.

She is the author of the Weather Weaver Adventure trilogy. The first book in the series won the Dudley Children's Book Award in 2021, and was shortlisted for the North Somerset Teacher's Book Award.

As I walked in, the owl glinted in the sunlight, almost as if it were blinking at me.

It took a while to find the right part of the library because I didn't want to ask for help. The librarian might say I was too young to be reading books about monsters. As I searched the shelves, I thought she was giving me suspicious looks.

There were heaps of books about monsters. I had no idea there were so many creatures to be afraid of. Ghosts and vampires and zombies of course, and witches with warts on their noses. Mummies with filthy bandages. Evil gnomes and jack o' lanterns. There were also books about gods and creatures I'd never heard of, like cyclops and djinns and kitsune. There were Egyptian cat gods, an Indian god with an elephant trunk and Greek musclemen with horse bodies, called centaurs.

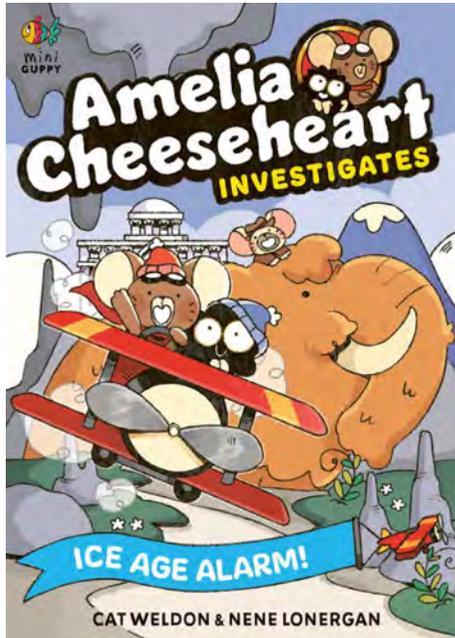

There were a lot of books about werewolves: people who sometimes turned into wolflike monsters. That felt familiar to say the least, so I read more.

Apparently, a long time ago everyone believed in werewolves. In fact, back

The third book in the comic-form mystery series for emerging readers starring sparky mouse aviator, Amelia Cheeseheart, and her best friend Webster, a banana-loving spider.

Every evening after the museum closes, Amelia Cheeseheart and her best friend Webster go exploring.

But when they arrive at the Ice Age Exhibit, all the Cave Mice have vanished and there's a mysterious moaning monster on the loose!

World-famous mouse adventurer Stilton Jones thinks he has all the answers, but Amelia isn't so sure . . .

It's time for Amelia Cheeseheart to investigate!

Author Information

Cat Weldon is a children's author who writes funny, fast-paced stories full of adventure, heart, and a sprinkling of chaos. She has a lifelong fascination with museums – the hidden corners, the curious artefacts, and the stories that lurk inside every display case – and can often be found jotting down ideas beside a fossil or two.

Cat holds a master's degree in scriptwriting and has a background in children's theatre. These days, she splits her time between writing, teaching, and chasing her wayward chickens through neighbouring gardens, while occasionally pausing for a banana. She lives in East Anglia with her family and a growing collection of museum postcards. Alongside Amelia Cheeseheart Investigates, Cat is also the author of a hilarious Viking trilogy for older readers, How to Be a Hero.

Nene Lonergan is a Thai/Chinese artist based in Ireland. She started drawing comic books at age 7 and has not yet stopped. Her comic works have been published in the OPArts Anthology, the HOME Anthology and Inis Magazine, for which she has been nominated for the Eco de Literatura prize (2021), the Ignatz awards (2022) and the Le Blanc Literature prize (2022). After art college, she won the prize in Illustration from the Irish Institute of Designers Graduate Awards for her short comic in 2023.

By Kenneth Oppel

What should be a relaxing weekend away from the city becomes the stuff of nightmares when Xavier and his family wake up to discover themselves trapped inside a dome with no escape, no sign of captors, and just one other family whose political and moral compasses are very different... an explosive story of survival, teenage passions and an invisible enemy.

When Xavier wakes up on the first morning of an enforced family weekend away with his pregnant stepmum and dad, he doesn't recognise where they are - it's as if the house has inexplicably been transported to the set of a video game, inside an impenetrable dome where the family have been 'donated' chickens, goats, wheat to help them survive. There is no trace of their mysterious captors and no way to escape. Three years later, he's sixteen and resigned to life without the internet, other people, let alone a girlfriend... when suddenly another family appears, one with vastly contrasting political ideologies and priorities. In the confines of this strange world, Xavier and 17-year-old gorgeous Mackenzie are thrown together, Mackenzie's erratic father becomes obsessively fixated on escape, and tensions between the two families begin to rise with devastating and tragic consequences... Kenneth Oppel's most thrilling novel to date is challenging, provocative and unforgettable.

Sales Points

The debut chapter-book from award-winning picture book author Alan Windram with fabulous line drawings throughout by Giulia Cregut.

A fast-paced, laugh out loud story of feline frolics, with rucksacks made from animal-print underpants, friendly, and not so friendly, forest encounters, tasty treats and some explosive poo. A cross between The Goonies and The Incredible Journey, with lots of heart.

Alan shares this exuberantly funny story of the imagined adventures of his two cat's, Sparky and George, as they journey out through the cat flap and into the big bad world. With themes of friendship, resilience and bravery.

Description

Everybody says it is a dog's life, but Sparky and George both knew that was just rubbish. Dogs were soooo silly, always running around after their humans, doing what they were told, chasing things, and BRINGING THEM BACK! Why on earth would you want to do that?

Whereas being a cat was the absolute very best.

Tasty treats, lots of nap's AND the whole wide world was just waiting to be explored on the other side of the cat flap.

Full of adventure, ingenious inventions, new friends, and some scary encounters, join Sparky and George as they take their first steps on an adventure that will change their lives forever.

About the author

Alan Windram is the award-winning author of the hugely popular One Button Benny series of picture books. One Button Benny was the winner of the Bookbug Picture Book Prize in 2019.

Alan is on the road for much of the year taking part in book festivals, school and library events. He loves meeting the children, telling stories, singing songs and doing some 'robot dancing'.

Alan is an accomplished singer-songwriter with four independent albums of original songs under his belt.

The Catventures of Sparky and George is Alan's first chapterbook based on the antics of his two cats.

Alan lives near Oban with his wife and two furry friends, Sparky and George.

About the illustrator

Giulia has been in love with art all her life.

She began to draw and paint as soon as she was given her first crayons as a child. At school she struggled with maths, english, and science...luckily she found art. She studied painting, drawing and other disciplines for six years at the Centro d'arte Martenot, in Francesca Del Panta's Studio, Italy.

From 2014 to 2017 she studied illustration at the Nemo Academy in Florence. She now loves her work as a freelance illustrator.

Giulia has previously illustrated the Little Door Books Rory the Dragon series of chapter books.

CHAPTER 10

Ray sat up, his head still spinning after his bounce down the hill and then crashing into the fox. He saw stars and chickens, and even squirrels, spinning round him. Slowly, the merry-go-round slowed down, and everything came into focus, and he felt Beryl cautiously trying to hug him for saving her – she didn't want to

A new edition of Louise Finch's Carnegie-shortlisted time-loop YA sensation 'tackles sexual assault, toxic masculinity, and grief with precision and courage' (Kirkus starred review).

Spence and Anthony have been friends for years, but it's only when he witnesses a classmate die in what looks like a tragic accident at a house party that a flicker in the fabric of time helps Spence 'see' Anthony for the first time.

When Spence wakes up to the same day again and sees Clara, the girl who died, alive and well, it's clear he's been granted a second chance. And a third. And a fourth...

Caught in a loop, condemned to experience the same 24 hours over and over, Spence tries to prevent the terrible events of the party. To break the spell, he has to re-evaluate everything he previously took for granted and find the courage to call out his own and others' complicity in events that marked the life and death of Clara Hart.

KEY SELLING POINTS:

- 10,000+ copies sold of the previous edition worldwide
- Reviewed and featured widely in the Guardian, The Scotsman, Kirkus, Foreword and more

Tree & Me

Did you know? Oak trees can be home to over 200 species and jays are thought to be responsible for planting more acorns than any other creature.

About Tree & Me

Daisy and Pedro escape to the woods and bring back an acorn, dropped by a passing jay. The acorn sprouts and magically grows too big for its pot on the windowsill so they plant it out on the street. Soon, the tree is a friendly giant, and reaches in through Daisy's window, inviting her to crawl onto a branch and discover all the birds and bugs who have made the the tree their home. Over the summer, the oak provides food and shade for all kinds of creatures, including humans, who drag their tables out into the street to eat in its shade. But autumn comes and the wind blows – bringing down new acorns. Daisy and Pedro collect the acorns and fly on the backs of their friends the jays, to plant new trees in the city. A sequel to Bee & Me, a firm favourite in nurseries and primary schools around the globe, Tree & Me book carries an uplifting message about nature's life cycles and features Alison's signature detailed and humorous artwork.

Big Red Dragon

Play-Rhymes Through the Year

Jane Newberry, illustrated by Carolina Rabei

www.otterbarrybooks.com

An exciting collection of original action rhymes for every season, for babies and toddlers

Find hamsters, dogs, robins and unicorns, little cars and big diggers, stomp like a dinosaur or fly like a big red dragon in this beautifully illustrated collection of 15 action rhymes, each with clear instructions for the parent or carer on how to act out the rhymes.

Rhymes celebrate festivals and special events, such as Easter, Halloween, Diwali, Christmas and Chinese New Year.

This book is a perfect companion to Jane Newberry's very popular first collection, Big Green Crocodile, which was shortlisted for the CLIPPA award. At home, playgroup or nursery, the rhymes provide fun while also nurturing children's responses to language, rhyme and images.

- "At home, playgroup or nursery, the rhymes provide fun while also nurturing children's responses to language, rhyme and images." Books Go Walkabout
- "The illustrations give a small child every reason to want to join in as they listen to each verse and copy the action." Books for Keeps
- "Promotes language development through interactive poems, beautiful bright illustrations and clear instructions for parents and carers...highly recommended for nursery and EYFS libraries and for reading at home to very young children." School Reading List

Author Information

Jane Newberry's unique insight into very young children began as a puppeteer at children's parties. She then taught music to Early Years groups for 25 years, garnering and creating a portfolio of rhymes and songs for creative play. Her previous collection, Big Green Crocodile, was a great success and prompted many requests for more.

Carolina Rabei is an internationally acclaimed children's book illustrator. Born in Moldova, she gained a BA in Graphic Art there and then an MA in Children's Illustration at the Cambridge School of Art. Her debut book was an illustrated edition of Walter de la Mare's poem Snow. As well as illustrating Big Green Crocodile for Otter-Barry Books, she illustrated Binky's Time to Fly by Sharmila Collins. She lives in Cambridge.

Tomboy

Not glitter and glitz. Not hair clips and bangles, painting of toenails and doodled lovehearts.

More baseball cap worn at a jaunty right-angle, skateboard and shin pads, arm-wrestling, darts.

Not twirling pink tutus and crushes on singers, pouts in the mirror for selfies, fake fur.

More spit on the sidelines, whistle through fingers.
Not a Tom. Not a boy. Just being more her.

"A profoundly moving verse novel about change, adaptation, the power of words and the struggle to find your people."
Imogen Russell Williams,
Guardian

"Well-written, authentic and very moving."
David Almond

"If you give this book to someone, they'll need a big hanky with it. This tearjerker is a novel in free verse about a working-class boy's experience of Year Six...It's one to read aloud to leavers so they will never forget their final year."
Nicolette Jones,

An illustration of a forest path. In the background, a town with colorful buildings and a lighthouse is visible. In the foreground, a woman with glasses and a yellow jacket is walking away from the viewer. To her right, a man with a beard, glasses, and a red coat is walking towards the viewer, followed by a child in a green jacket. The forest has large trees, a crow on a branch, and a red lizard on a tree trunk.

Uncle Jerome walks us through the wild woods and we plod along the pathways hearing the crunch and scrunch of leaves underfoot.

An illustration of a dark forest. A woman with glasses and a yellow jacket is looking back over her shoulder with a worried expression. Several crows are flying around her. In the background, a child in a green jacket is also looking back. The forest is dark with some glowing mushrooms and a yellow spiral on a tree trunk.

When we are deep in the dark of the woods, we hear the crows caww-craawww.

‘Can’t we stop?’ Zarah asks, dragging behind.

A close-up illustration of Uncle Jerome. He has a beard, glasses, and a blue beanie. He has a surprised or concerned expression on his face, with his mouth open and one hand raised. The background shows a dark forest with a crow.

Uncle Jerome pauses.
‘Listen!’ he says.
‘What’s that noise?’
I think it might be . . .

How It Works: Recycling Truck

By (author) Dee Costello

Illustrated by David Semple

Recycling trucks are very helpful machines! But how do they work?

This chunky board book has been especially designed for little hands to look inside, with interactive pages to grasp and explore.

Curious young ones will love learning all about a recycling truck - how bin workers empty special bins into its tank on a journey with lots of stops, how noisy it can be (clink, clunk, crush!) and how the truck brings the old materials it has collected to a recycling centre to be cleaned, sorted and used all over again to make something new!

Packed with accessible information, this is the perfect book for vehicle-mad little ones.

- Peep-through pages encourage hands-on exploration, keeping readers engaged from start to finish.
- Filled with fun, fascinating information about recycling trucks and recycling.
- With simple facts from an adorable mouse asking 'Did You Know?' questions.
- Over 800,000 copies of the series sold worldwide!

WHO'S BEHIND THE BOOK?

Dee Costello

Dee Costello is a children's book editor and writer who grew up in London, spent a happy chunk of her life in Boston, USA, and is now living by the big, beautiful sea in Worthing, UK. At every opportunity she will try to smell pine trees, cycle, surf, laugh, make arty 'creations' with her two children, and read . . . out loud!

David Semple

David Semple was born in the North East of England in the early 70s. After studying illustration, he enjoyed a stint working in the TV and Film industry in London painting latex puppets & prosthetics! Since then, a pencil has never been far from his grasp and he has designed and illustrated characters for an impressive range of clients across the globe. He lives in York with his designer wife Kate, their three children, and Olive the dog.

Hank Meets Frank

By (author) Maudie Powell-Tuck
Illustrated by Duncan Beedie

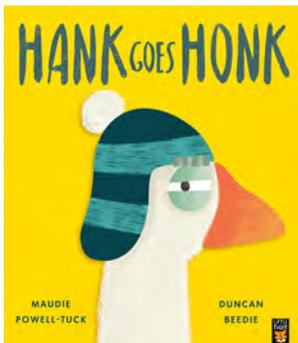

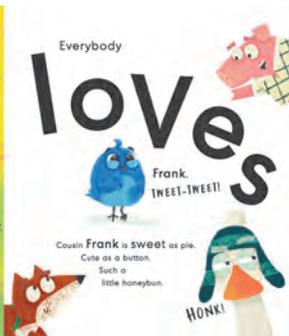

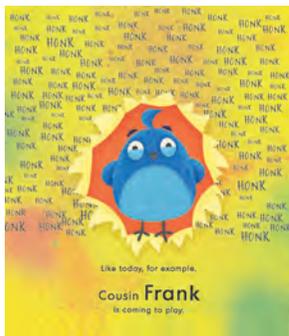

Hank the goose is back in this anarchic follow up to Hank Goes Honk.

Hank can be a little pesky, a little pecky and a teensy bit objectionable! But not today. Not when his little cousin Frank is here to visit. You see, Frank is sweet as a daisy and cute as a button. Butter wouldn't melt. So, Hank is going to be on his very best behaviour. In fact, they're both going to be little angels. Isn't that right, Hank? Frank? Guys?!

Featuring super-stylish illustrations from Duncan Beedie (I Really Really Need a Wee, Agent Llama, Heavy Metal Badger) and a deadpan, contemporary narrative voice, Hank Meets Frank is part of the hilarious World of Hank series of picture and board books.

With a loveable anti-hero, fans of Don't Let the Pigeon Drive the Bus! by Mo Willems, The Bad Seed by Jory John and Pete Oswald, and I Can Only Draw Worms by Will Mabbitt are sure to have a HONK-ingly good time.

WHOOOPS!

Our Tree

By (author) Jessica Meserve

A stunning evocation of tolerance, togetherness and the power of community.

Little Red is delighted when he discovers a beautiful tree, all to himself! But he soon realises he is not on his own - animals of all sizes visit the tree to enjoy its shade, nibble on its leaves and rest on its branches. Little Red doesn't want to share; he'd rather set off to find a place of his own. But after a mildly perilous altercation with a leopard, Little Red learns the value of friends who have your back.

A gentle encouragement of the importance of sharing and acceptance with exquisite, detailed illustrations that are perfect for poring over. Like Hey, Wall by Susan Verde and John Parra, Maybe Something Beautiful by F. Isabel Campoy, Theresa Howell and Rafael López, and Leaves by Stephen Hogtun, Our Tree is a picture book to treasure.

Also available . . . The Home That Love Built

- Enforces themes of acceptance and sharing, with a gentle touch.
- Celebrates the majesty of nature through the character of a wise old tree.
- Exquisite illustrations and a lyrical text from a rising star.

WHO'S BEHIND THE BOOK?

Jessica Meserve

Jessica Meserve studied illustration at Edinburgh College of Art and worked in publishing as a children's book designer before pursuing a career as a children's author and illustrator. She has lived in Canada, France and the US, but now lives with her family in England. She finds inspiration and happiness from the great outdoors, and her two dogs and her family.

A whimsical illustration of a tree with a face, a squirrel, and butterflies. The tree has a brown trunk and branches, with green and yellow leaves. A red squirrel is perched on a branch to the right. The background is a soft, light green and yellow wash. The text is written in a simple, black, sans-serif font.

One warm day, Tree
felt the pitter-patter
of tiny feet dash
up their trunk.

It was Little Red.
And as he scampered, he chirruped,
"This tree is all for

Moon's Lullaby

By (author) Júlia Moscardó

“Can we have the story of Moon’s lullaby?” asks one little gosling.
“Yes,” says Mama. “But you will have to be very quiet and listen . . .”

Day is drawing to a close at the pond, but five little goslings aren’t ready to sleep just yet. They want to hear their favourite bedtime story about the animals that Moon watches over on her nightly crossing of the sky. Soon the goslings are wrapped up in their mama’s words, scurrying like rabbits, buzzing like bees and croaking like frogs. But as darkness blankets their home, they find themselves feeling sleepier and sleepier . . .

This beautiful, atmospheric picture book from Carnegie-nominated Júlia Moscardó follows all our favourite woodland animals in a panoramic nighttime adventure. With evocative illustrations and beautiful text, this book will immerse your little reader in the world of the great outdoors.

Perfect for fans of We’re Going on a Bear Hunt, Owl Babies and The Shirley Hughes Collection.

- Created by Carnegie-nominated Júlia Moscardó.
- This book has plenty of animal sounds and actions to copy.
- The book includes a subtle countdown element, calming children as they prepare for bed.

AMPHIBIAN

Water-loving amphibians include toads, salamanders and newts, but the most common animal in this group is the fantastic frog!

Almost all amphibians spend part of their life on land and part in water.

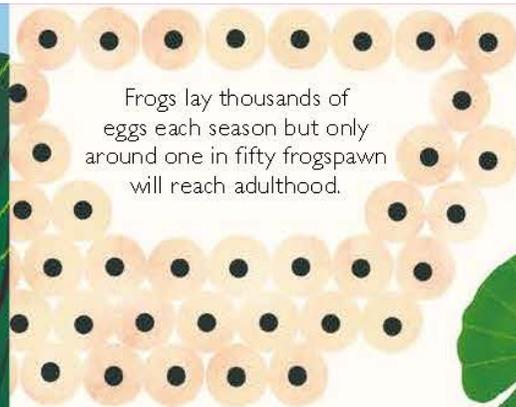

3. A tadpole grows legs and changes body shape. It can now eat insects as well as plants.

Spin the wheel to see the stages of a frog's life cycle.

BREATHING

A tadpole is born with gills, which means it can breathe underwater. When it's older, it grows lungs and can then live on land.

Most amphibians can also breathe through their skin as long as it is wet.

Frogs lay thousands of eggs each season but only around one in fifty frogspawn will reach adulthood.

Most frog eggs need to be in water but poison frogs lay their eggs on land.

HAVE YOU TRIED . . .

looking for tadpoles? You can normally spot them in ponds from March to May in the UK.

While frog eggs gather in clumps, toadspawn is laid in long ribbons.

HATCHING

Normally, tadpoles take around 14 weeks to become frogs. This time can be shorter if the tadpoles are in danger. But if it's too cold on land, tadpoles can delay becoming frogs for up to a year.

One amazing amphibian is the axolotl. It has a tail and so is a type of salamander.

Star Friends: Energy Thief

By (author) Linda Chapman

Illustrated by Kim Barnes

Do you believe in magic? Maia and her friends do! And when they meet the Star Animals, a whole world of adventure unfolds.

Glam and Beardy: Volume I

By (author) Ruby Clyde and Rachel WD

Illustrated by Vincent Batignole

A laugh-out-loud series written by an award-winning comedy double act (Shelf).

The five Kindoms of Kinisle have stood since the dawn of time. Each holds its own unique power, its own importance in the balance of our world. We all belong to one of these ancient Kindoms. When we turn ten, we Meet our Familiar, and our Familiar bears a Mark that reveals which Kindom we belong to, and we fit into our Kindom perfectly and feel wonderful and happy and good forever and ever and always. Unless you're me, that is.

This is the historical record of how I, Glam, FINALLY met my Familiar, Beardy, and how we learned that NOTHING about our world is as it seems... (And that parkour and dandelions are ALWAYS the answer - Beardy said it was very important that I add that!) Written as a shared diary (well, it's very much Glam's diary, but she can't stop Beardy writing in it!), GLAM AND BEARDY is packed with humour and adventure.

Perfect for fans of LOKI, DIARY OF AN ACCIDENTAL WITCH and FROSTHEART.

- Shelf perform regularly across the UK – they have a comedy show for kids that they tour with, as well as writing for The Amazing World of Gumball on the Cartoon Network.
- Heavily illustrated diary format, with an appealing cartoon style
- A celebration of being your true self and friendship in a fun fantasy setting

WHO'S BEHIND THE BOOK?

By (author) Leah Osakwe

Music is EVERYTHING to Sabrina. It's her way of expressing herself - she loves listening to it, writing it and playing it. And since she formed a band with her best friend Galaxy, she gets to do that all the time! Things are looking up for Just the Misfits, and Sabrina's on a mission to take them to the next level.

But Sabrina and her mum have always had a strained relationship and tensions grow as Sabrina struggles to balance her studies and music, getting her into more trouble at school. Sabrina is frustrated that her mum refuses to understand how important the band is to her, and while her friends try to support her, things start to spiral. Soon Sabrina's mum has had enough of her antics and threatens to send her away to live with her dad. Can Just the Misfits show Sabrina's mum how much the band means to them, and convince her to let Sabrina stay?
